

University of Wyoming Public Art Policy

(Approved by the University of Wyoming Board of Trustees during the January 2014 Board meeting.)

I. Committee Charge. Per the appointment letter of January 24, 2012, and consistent with the action of the Board of Trustees on October 23, 2013, the President’s Public Art Committee (the Committee) is hereby charged with: 1) evaluation and providing a recommendation on proposals for the placement of art—permanent or temporary—in public areas of the university, including outdoor public areas and interior public spaces (prominent public areas, lobbies, atria, entrances, and principal assembly areas); and 2) working with Physical Plant and the University of Wyoming (UW) Foundation to develop a plan for the future placement of trees, benches, and picnic tables through the Foundation’s “Tree and Bench” program.

The Committee shall serve in an advisory capacity to the UW President. In offering input, the Committee shall strive to provide recommendations by unanimous consent wherever reasonably possible. In the event unanimous consent is not achievable, recommendations will be determined by a majority vote of a minimum quorum of three Committee members.

II. Committee Mission. The President’s Public Art Committee seeks to enrich the cultural, intellectual, and scholarly life of the University of Wyoming’s students, faculty, staff, and visitors while advancing the university’s academic mission through enhancing and complimenting the physical and aesthetic environment of campus, preserving and celebrating its history and heritage, and inspiring contemplation, reflection, and dialogue.

III. Vision Statement. The President’s Public Art Committee strives to advance the aesthetic and physical environment of UW by creating an integrated mixed use of public spaces that reflects the University’s teaching, research, and service mission and acknowledges its heritage. Art can become the physical expression of UW and that art can further inquiry and widen knowledge. Finding a balance from traditional to contemporary is essential in creating public spaces that challenge and broaden the experience of our students, faculty, staff, donors, and visitors on campus.

IV. Definition of Public Art. The Committee is guided by the following definition of public art: art objects placed in a shared, publicly accessible space.

A. Categories of public art may include functional, expressive, or installation art donated or commissioned, or otherwise acquired that are prominent and located in public space.
