

UW Strategic Travel Program October Updates

Recently, Procurement and Payment Services developed key partnerships with several national travel providers to add benefits and leverage discounts for travel services that employees were already utilizing. Currently, those strategic partnerships include United Airlines, Enterprise/National rental cars, and Southwest Airlines with more travel partnerships anticipated in the future. While these partnerships provide great value to the University, utilization of them is not required for UW affiliated business travel.

Over the past few months, we have been inviting our partners to present their programs at our monthly Financial Affairs and HR Deep Dive meetings. In August, Enterprise/National and Southwest Airlines presented their programs. This month's strategic travel presentation will highlight the partnership UW has with United Airlines which includes services to Laramie. Please join us at the upcoming Deep Dive on October 20th where our United Airlines account manager will share how to access the program's exclusive benefits available for all UW employee and student business travel. Additional information including a full agenda and meeting invite for the Deep Dive will be emailed to campus later this month.

If you were unable to join the previous travel partner presentations or would like to learn more about accessing the different programs, please visit the Strategic Travel Partnerships website located on the Procurement and Payment Services website which contains instructions and contact information for all of our strategic partners.

Questions about travel partners can also be emailed to procurement-card@uwyo.edu.
