

UW Student Employee of the Year Submission

Submissions are now being accepted for the University of Wyoming's Student Employee of the Year. The deadline is Friday, January 29th.

"Student employees are an integral part of UW's workforce. Everyone in our University community has inspirational stories about these hard-working, dedicated team members who contribute to the University's mission while working to financially support their educational goals," says Tom Koczara, Associate Vice President for Human Resources. "We are grateful for the numerous contributions made by our student employees, and we encourage you to join in nominating a student for this prestigious award."

Three winners will be selected, with the first-place student receiving a $500 scholarship; second place will be awarded a $250 scholarship; and the third-place winner will receive a $100 scholarship. The first-place winner will advance to the state level, and then possibly to the national-level competition.

Student Eligibility

- Only undergraduate students will be considered for the submission process.
- Students may be paid by work study funds or institutional funds.
- There is no restriction on length of employment for the student.
- Submissions will be judged on the following NACE core competencies: critical thinking/problem solving, teamwork/collaboration, digital technology, leadership, professionalism/work ethic, career management, global/intercultural fluency.
