

You should write a new story each year. It could follow the same general outline, but make sure you tell this year's story, and it's not the same story every year. This is a story, don't just write one or two lines. Show your growth!

Write about how your year in 4-H has been! Talk about how your time in 4-H has helped you feel good about yourself, influenced you in school, your career goals, or your free time.

Some things you can include in your story:

- Introduce yourself:
  - Your name, what grade you're in, how many years you've been in 4-H.
- Highlights from your 4-H projects and activities (what did you enjoy, what didn't go like you thought it would, what might you do differently next year?)
- What did you enjoy most about your 4-H year?
- What was the most successful part of your 4-H year?
- What did you learn in 4-H this year (that you maybe haven't talked about as part of your projects)?
- Did you have any challenges? What happened? What did you do?
- What leadership or community service or other activities did you learn the most from?
- Did you use the things you learned in 4-H in other parts of your life?
- How was this year important to you?
- What are your future plans in 4-H? What are your future plans for school or for a career?
