Training Topics

True Colors

Clubs and county 4-H programs revolve around many people...many of whom have a very different personality styles. Recognizing personality traits in ourselves and others is essential to working effectively as a team.

Elements of Positive Youth Development

Training will revolve around learning strategies to incorporate the Essential Elements into your club and county programs. Each of these Essential Elements is vital to the growth and development of youth.

Belonging
Generosity
Mastery

It is the combination of the Big M Elements that creates a positive environment for youth development.
