Re: UW 2-13 Review Committee for the Reorganization of Kinesiology and Health

Recently President Seidel and I proposed a plan for restructuring UW for Wyoming's future. This plan was developed to address two broad goals – to position UW for the future and to respond to a significant reduction in the university's budget. This plan includes structures that enhance synergism among disciplines within the Colleges and interdisciplinary programs that transcend departments and colleges. It is intended to improve student experiences and success, emphasize growth of programs for 21st century themes, incorporate better efficiencies, better position the University for R1 research classification, and provide economic support to the state of Wyoming.

Included in the plan are recommendations for the discontinuance, reorganization, consolidation, and reduction of academic units and degree programs. In accordance with University Regulation 2-13, I will be discussing the recommendations and soliciting feedback from the academic personnel and staff in the affected units, the unit heads, and the deans of the colleges. Additionally, I am convening a series of committees to provide additional feedback and recommendations for implementation of the restructuring plan.

Thank you for agreeing to participate on the UW 2-13 Review Committee for the reorganization of Kinesiology and Health.

The committee will assume an advisory role in reviewing the UW Restructuring Plan, preparing a report on the proposed reorganization of the Division of Kinesiology and Health, including recommendations for the inclusion of nutrition in the curriculum and degrees offered by the division.

President Seidel and I will review your report, as well as other feedback provided through the AA online portal (<http://www.uwyo.edu/acadaffairs/program-review/current/index.html>) before finalizing the UW Restructuring Plan and submitting it to the Board for approval at their November 17-19, 2021 meeting.

For planning purposes only, we anticipate a reduction of 3% to the Kinesiology and Health budget; however, this budget may be adjusted up to account for the addition of Nutrition. Please keep this budget impact in mind as you complete your report.

As you undertake your work, I encourage you to focus on the future. In doing so, you should:

1. Explore the benefits of the proposal, any unintended consequences the proposal may have inadvertently overlooked, and mitigation strategies to overcome those unintended consequences within the scope of the proposed re-structure.
2. Examine the organizational structures impacted by the recommended changes and provide a recommendation on how the academic unit could be structured, including administrative and staff positions needed to support the consolidated unit. A rationale that supports the recommendation should be included.
3. Consider how the proposed changes can lead to greater efficiencies in the unit and improved educational experiences for students.
4. Consider areas of faculty expertise that should be emphasized to position the division to be nationally and internationally competitive in its research activities, especially in areas of significant anticipated growth in funding from federal agencies and in areas of importance to the state of Wyoming and in attracting and growing corporate partnerships.
5. Consider areas of faculty expertise that are needed to provide undergraduate and graduate degree programs in kinesiology, health, and nutrition.
6. Please keep in mind that this is not a personnel committee. The committee is not charged with making determinations about specific faculty and staff positions. Instead, the committee is charged with preparing a report that includes recommendations for moving the organization/academic unit forward under a new structure.

In gathering information and feedback, you should:

1. Seek input on your recommended consolidation plan from students, staff, faculty and external stakeholders, including relevant advisory boards and private-sector stakeholders.
2. Consult with subject matter experts in the department, particularly the impacted department heads (and past heads, if they are willing), the impacted deans, and national/international experts you may wish to call on for their expertise

Your final report is due to me no later than October 1, 2021.
