AUTHOR'S CORNER

Diversion: A Nation Under Siege by Ed Pearson, B.S. '61, mechanical engineering. From the devastation of the Civil War, America had risen to international prominence. Now its destiny was to lead the world in military, education, social justice and commerce. But there were lethal forces at work, both foreign and domestic, that threatened to destroy this destiny. John Lamb, biology major and a new college graduate would find himself embroiled in a struggle to preserve the sanctity of America's way of life. Germany, the great European power, would direct people and money to America to disrupt and destroy infrastructure, steal corporate secrets and recruit sympathetic immigrants to perform works of sabotage.

Elizabeth Rader Haigler, B.S. '10 political science, and Mathew Haigler, B.S. '10, energy systems engineering, 9/10/16. The wedding was in Centennial Wyo. at St. Alban's Chapel.
