UW AUTHORS CORNER

Clock Strikes Three* by John Bradford Branney, B.S. '77, geology, is his seventh novel. Our parents have conditioned us from an early age to trust our doctors. Most people believe that doctors have their patients' best interests at heart. What happens when a well-respected psychiatrist believes he is above the law and he manipulates his patients to get them to carry out a twisted form of vigilante justice?

Inga* by Scott Farris, B.S. '79, journalism, M.A. '04, history. Inga Arvad was the great love of President John F. Kennedy's life and also Adolf Hitler's special guest at the 1936 Berlin Olympics. She was an actress, a foreign correspondent, a popular Washington columnist, an explorer who lived among a tribe of headhunters, one of Hollywood's most influential gossip columnists and a suspected Nazi spy.

Black Hills* by Jennifer Schneider, M.F.A. '12, creative writing, and Franklin Schneider. When Brooklyn private investigator Alice Riley reluctantly travels to Whitehurst, S.D., to investigate an assault charge against her ex-boss's husband, she discovers more than just a tawdry small-town scandal.
