Course Description: Students will learn and practice proper techniques of livestock slaughter. Students will be directly involved in livestock slaughter in the UW Meat Laboratory. Prerequisites: FDSC 3060.

Disability Statement: If you have a physical, learning, or psychological disability and require accommodations, please let the instructor know as soon as possible. You must register with, and provide documentation of your disability to University Disability Support Services (UDSS) in SEO, room 330 Knight Hall.

Objectives/Outcomes/Standards: Students will learn the proper procedures of livestock slaughter, improve their proficiency at performing selected tasks, and be able to properly identify major steps in the slaughter process.

Students are expected to follow all rules and regulations regarding meat lab procedures. These include personal safety, personal hygiene, sanitation, record keeping, and other procedures. These will be outlined for you. Students should be familiar with procedures outlined in previous class periods, handouts and sections of the text that correspond to the current session before coming to lab.

Meat Lab policies prohibit food (including gum), tobacco, jewelry, watches, shorts, skirts, and open toed shoes. Hairnets and protective clothing will be provided for you while in the Meat Lab. Clean clothes and shoes are required. Jewelry used for body piercing must be removed if they are visible. If they cannot be removed, they must be covered for personal and hygienic safety reasons. Tape is available for this purpose.

Students should become engaged in an interactive learning process. This means you should participate in discussions, ask questions when a particular topic or point is unclear, and work as a team in practicum groups. These activities will facilitate the learning process.

Attendance/Participation Policy: Students are expected to attend all class sessions. Attendance will be graded and count towards assignment of final grades (see grading section below). An acceptable excuse must be presented to the instructor prior to missing any graded event. University sponsored absences are cleared through the Office of Student Life. Possibilities for a make-up test will be discussed as problems arise. Due to the nature and expense of materials, however, make-up of graded events will not be given. If you have a problem, please visit with the instructor(s).

Appropriate chapters of the text (chapters 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7) will be assigned as the course progresses (see course outline). You are expected to read appropriate portions of the text and additional materials before attending related class periods.

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY:

GENERAL INFORMATION. All members of the University community are responsible for upholding the values of academic integrity. The faculty considers academic integrity a matter of common concern, not merely a private issue between instructor and student. Honesty in all academic endeavors is a component of academic integrity that is vital to the educational functions of the University. Whatever form academic dishonesty may take, the faculty considers it as establishing a student's failure to demonstrate the acquisition of knowledge and the failure to apply it to an academic endeavor. It is a student's responsibility to learn the standards of conduct for the performance of academic endeavors; it is an instructor or faculty member's responsibility to make reasonable effort to make known the standards of conduct for the performance of academic endeavors. Through an atmosphere of mutual respect we enhance the value of education and maintain high standards of academic excellence. Failure on the part of the student to observe and maintain standards of academic honesty, as hereafter defined or made known by an instructor responsible for a course or other academic endeavor, requires corrective action as hereafter authorized

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY is defined by the UW Faculty as: An action attempted or performed that misrepresents one's involvement in an academic endeavor in any way, or assists another student in misrepresenting his or her involvement in an academic endeavor. Examples of academic dishonesty include, but are not limited to: Plagiarism, Cheating, Fraud, Violation of Standards, Multiple Submissions, Interference or Obstruction, Complicity.
