Position Summary: The Department of Animal Sciences seeks outstanding candidates for an instructor and student recruiter position. This is a 12-month, full time, non-tenure track, faculty appointment (70% teaching, 30% outreach and service). The successful candidate will be engaged in teaching applied undergraduate courses in livestock production and management (multi-species), mentoring undergraduate students and student organizations, and active recruitment of prospective undergraduate students. Additional expectations include attending and interacting with prospective students and industry stakeholders at various state and national livestock-oriented events.

Description and Responsibilities: Develop and teach applied undergraduate courses associated with production and management of various species of livestock; Mentor undergraduate students and student organizations; Involvement in professional development of undergraduate students; Coordinate departmental activities associated with student recruitment and orientation of new students; Represent the department at various state and national events and functions attended by prospective students; Coordinate and enhance the departmental undergraduate scholarship program; Assist with development of promotional media for the CSU Department of Animal Sciences undergraduate program.

CSU is Colorado's Land Grant University and the Department of Animal Sciences is responsible for educating approximately 800 undergraduate and 50 graduate students at any given time. The CSU main campus sits at the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains one hour north of metro Denver in Fort Collins, CO and offers excellent access to transportation, all outdoor interests, and a wide cross-section of the livestock and meat industries and their trade organizations. To learn more about CSU go to: http://www.colostate.edu.

Required Job Qualifications: Master’s degree in animal science or other ag-related discipline from an accredited institution. Technical and practical skills necessary to develop and deliver applied, hands-on undergraduate courses in animal science. Broad-based background and depth of knowledge in production, care, and management of livestock (cattle, swine, sheep, goats). Evidence of exemplary oral and written communication skills. Demonstrated commitment to diversity and inclusion, consistent with departmental and institutional values.

Preferred Job Qualifications: Candidates with a Ph.D. degree in animal science or other ag-related discipline also will be favorably reviewed. Evidence of prior teaching experience. Evidence of effective interpersonal skills with students. Experience in student recruiting. Demonstrated ability to work effectively as a team member.

Special Instructions to Applicants: Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. However, for full consideration, applications must be received by January 10, 2016. Applications should be accompanied by a letter of application (cover letter) and curriculum vitae, including: (1) copies of academic transcripts for all degrees, (2) a comprehensive list of affiliations, experiences, and accomplishments, (listed as other) (3) a single page statement of teaching philosophy, and (4) names, addresses & phone numbers for three professional references who may be contacted by the Search Committee. References will not be contacted without prior notification to candidates.

Background Check Policy Statement: Colorado State University (CSU) strives to provide a safe study, work, and living environment for its faculty, staff, volunteers and students. To support this environment and comply with applicable laws and regulations, CSU conducts background checks. The type of background check conducted varies by position and can include, but is not limited to, criminal (felony and misdemeanor) history, sex offender registry, motor vehicle history, financial history, and/or education verification. Background checks will be conducted when required by law or contract and when, in the discretion of the university, it is reasonable and prudent to do so.

EEO Statement: Colorado State University is committed to providing an environment that is free from discrimination and harassment based on race, age, creed, color, religion, national origin or ancestry, sex, gender, disability, veteran status, genetic information, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or pregnancy. Colorado State University is an equal opportunity/equal access/affirmative action employer fully committed to achieving a diverse workforce and complies with all Federal and Colorado State laws, regulations, and executive orders regarding non-discrimination and affirmative action. The Office of Equal Opportunity is located in 101 Student Services. Diversity Statement: Ability to advance the department’s commitment to diversity and inclusion through research, teaching and outreach with relevant programs, goals and activities. Search Contact: Laura Bonner 970-491-5177 laura.bonner@colostate.edu. http://jobs.colostate.edu:80/postings/16576