WHO: Cowboy Battalion
WHAT: Adopt a Cop
WHEN: 24 MAR 2015
WHERE: University of Wyoming

SUMMARY: The University of Wyoming Police Department has assigned Officer Ashlynne Nutter as the new liaison between the PD and Army ROTC to build a stronger bond between the organizations.

University of Wyoming Police Department recently assigned Officer Ashlynne Nutter as the liaison between the UWPD and Army ROTC. The Adopt a Cop program is in its second year and is ran by the police department to aid various organizations in and around the University. Other entities that have the program are men’s basketball, women’s basketball, women’s soccer, as well as several other teams and departments.

Officer Nutter has strong ties to the military. She grew up in an Air Force family in which her father now works with the University of Wyoming Air Force ROTC. Her brother, Josh Nutter, graduated from UW and commissioned as an army officer through the Army ROTC program. Due to her upbringing, Officer Nutter will be able to provide insight about military living and be able to relate with ROTC Cadets.

Officer Nutter is not only the liaison for the Army ROTC program but has recently been assigned as the coordinator of the Adopt a Cop program by the UW Police Department. She hopes to put on classes to educate Cadets on various topics such as: alcohol consumption, safety on campus and throughout the community. She also hopes her interaction with the Cadets will not only foster a professional relationship but a personal relationship in which they can see her as a mentor and role model.

For more information about the Adopt a Cop program go to the following website: www.uwyo.edu/uwpd
To contact Officer Nutter with any questions, please call her at 307-766-5176 or email her at aknutter@uwyo.edu