

Happy Friday Everyone! Here are all the executives weekly report.

ASUW Vice President

- Office hours and Service Hours are due by the end of Friday September 30th.

Chief-of-Staff

- Things in my department are starting to slow down a little bit but I expect everything to speed up in the next couple of days.
- For the Honorary Cowboy there was some miscommunication going on so we might have to switch the family preferred game to a different one. More information to follow. With that being said I would like to take 2 senators to dinner with the family. If you are interested, please email me back!
- This upcoming week I will be meeting with the graduate assistant, Ashley, to go over scholarships and make a more descriptive timeline. If you would like to serve in the committee, please let me know and I will add you. When I was a senator this was by far the most rewarding experience. Also I will feed! Again, I will feed you if you decide to sit on the committee.

Director of Finance

- Over the last week I have been working with my committee to put on Scones and Scholarships, which will be Thursday the 28th, from 6:30-7:30 in BU129. This event will be about teaching students where to find the scholarships and how to apply to them. We have also been planning other events too, including a credit event hosted by UniWyo and “How to Shop on a budget.” Personally, I have been speaking with the CAC and will continue speaking with them on how to collaborate for events. On Friday, I will be speaking with Lena Newlin of the Wellness Center about how to collaborate with them for financial wellness events as well.
- I might need a senator’s help on how to write a resolution about adding a 1 credit course that would be an introduction to personal finance. I would also appreciate it if all senators spread the word about my events, including Scones and Scholarships.

Director of Programs and Institutional Development

- This Week Executive Long had been working on putting Freshman Senators’ information on Guidebook before it launches. Along with that she has been writing legislation that would establish a strategic partnership between ASUW, IFC and Panhellenic. Lastly, she has been busy with potentially hiring someone for Student Legal Services (SLS) and will soon start writing legislation to emphasize the importance of getting this position filled.

- Executive Long was able to put all the Freshman Senators' information on the Guide.
- Executive Long was able to complete an interview for a potential lawyer for SLS and is hopeful the process will close shortly.
- Executive Long's goal for the upcoming week are as followed:
 - Set up the launch for Guidebook and ensure it's as up to date as possible before the launch.
 - Get started on writing the MOU between ASUW and the International Programs Office
 - Have the first draft of the legislation for Strategic Programs finished so I can send it to Panhellenic and IFC.
 - Look into the ASTEC Ad-Hoc Committee and try to get it running within the next two weeks.
- Something awesome executive Long did last week was getting caught up on HW and Sleep!

Director of RSO Relations

- This past week I continued meeting with the RSOs the Funding Board has approved for events and conferences. I've been helping them register and get reimbursed for conferences, and then also thoughtfully budget for their events in an efficient and timely matter. My board to show appreciation for RSOs is finally hung near my desk in the office so please send me any pictures you'd like from ASUW funded events and stop by to see how incredible all our diverse RSOs are here on campus. I plan on sitting through another/full SOP committee meeting this week to collaborate regarding RSOs usage and views on UW catering and the ins and outs of how catering works for RSOs. Other than those things, this past week was business as usual for me and I am planning to reach out in more personal ways to RSOs and bridge the gap between them and ASUW now that Funding Board requests have slowed down.

Director of Governmental Affairs

- This week, I wrote 2 pieces of legislation for the Senate. I am currently still working with several esteemed senators on alcohol sales in the Athletic facilities. I have been busy with the Youth Voter Summit, conducting outreach and working towards my role.
- I tracked down, and scanned 18 pieces of legislation that was missing from our online archive from FY 2009.
- If you are planning on going to WyASC and signed up on time, you have until Wednesday at 5 PM to confirm that you are still attending, or I will bump you and move down the list of volunteers who did not sign up on time. I need to get the Authorized Absences rolling.

Director of Diversity

- Executive Nesbitt previous week was able to attend UMC round table. He played a role in how ASUW can facilitate with projects and how ASUW can be integrated into discussions and panels.
- Executive Nesbitt was able to communicate with Senator Defebaugh, who sits on the Financial Crisis Advisory Committee, and was to bring student concerns about the lack of movement going on for search of Chief Diversity officer.
- Executive Nesbitt has been receiving applications for the Childcare assistance scholarship and will see if the deadline needs to be extended or not.
- Executive Nesbitt will be one of the facilitators for the Good Mule conference
- Here is the list of Executive Nesbitt goals for the week:
 - UMC Collaborations: UMC's first campaign will be about cultural appropriation, in particular in Halloween costumes. I will be helping them begin this photo campaign by finding models from multicultural RSOs and facilitating a discussion about cultural appropriation.
 - UMC is looking for help with writing legislation and sponsorship for changing the name of Freshman Senate to First-Year Senate. For those senators that would like to help with this change, I invite them to hold a special meeting with myself and UMC.
 - MLK Days of Dialogue: Seeing as there are changes happening within the leadership structure of the conference, I will be supplementarily helping the committee in whatever ways they see best fit. There is likely to be a facilitation through the Service, Leadership, and Community Engagement (SLCE) Office, through the Good Mule Conference facilitators.

- I need someone to attend the weekly committee meetings on my behalf. It is imperative that my position in ASUW is directly involved in the conference, and I truly wish I could go, yet I have class. The meetings are on Tuesdays from 1:30 – 2:30pm.
- Childcare Assistance Scholarship: $5,000 have been allocated for the scholarship, which will be divided up into five (5) $1,000 scholarships. Per the applications that arrive tomorrow, we will then decide whether to extend the application deadline or close it down on Monday, seeing as the first deadline will be September 30th.
- Safe Zone Diversity Training for ASUW- Per recommendation by Safe Zone Coordinator Bria Frame, we are working on implementing a new training, specifically regarding gender identities, for the Senate, seeing as that office does not believe ASUW has a good understanding of nonbinary and transgender identities after hearing the debate over SB-2513 and SB-2514.

Director of Marketing

- Hey everyone! This week I worked on the Sources of Strength marketing and got pictures taken for September's theme, positive friends! I also took all of the freshman senators' pictures and they all looked like perfection! I have begun the mock-ups for the WyoVocal and Guidebook launch and will continue to work on them! (They look pretty awesome so far, just sayin'.) I will update the website this week since it finally be off of a freeze! I would love for senators to start taking pictures with the mental health wedge for October, as well!
