PROPOSAL FOR A UNIVERSITY OF WYOMING STUDENT HANDBOOK

The need for a student handbook grew out of a concern that new students are deluged with information from a variety of sources and not in a form that would encourage students to keep and use that information throughout a college career. It is not proposed that a complete rewrite of any existing information would be necessary, but simply that a vehicle for assembling existing and desired information into one handbook would be provided.

We believe this assemblage of information into one student handbook will:

1. Meet immediate needs of new students in getting started by making the transition to UW life smoother.

2. Provide information to facilitate educational goals and awareness of opportunities for involvement in extracurricular activities.

3. Provide a resource book for use throughout the college career.

Handbooks of this type at other universities have significantly increased the information bank of students, and through information and awareness, have increased the participation in student government.

In the Fall of 1981 there were 1,625 new freshman students and 698 new undergraduate transfer students for a total of 2,323. Therefore, it is proposed that 2,500 standard three-ring binders with 1" rings be purchased by ASUW at a cost of $1.59/binder for a total of $4,175 for new student handbooks. A bill has been introduced in ASUW Senate on February 23, 1982, to fund this appropriation. The binders would be yellow with the UW seal and the ASUW logo printed in brown.

Four divider pages would be furnished by the UW Admissions Orientation Program. The major sections to be included on the dividers would be:

1. Academic Survival
2. Campus and Community
3. Student Activities or Student Life
4. Student Services.

Material for inclusion in the handbook would be funded and furnished, ready for inclusion, by the individual sources who wish to have information included in the handbook. Sources are responsible for the format and content of their own material.
Material to be included must be 8½" x 11", must be professionally duplicated or printed, and must be prepunched for a standard three-ring binder. No xeroxed or mimeographed material will be included.

Prices from The University of Wyoming Duplicating Service for 8½" x 11" 20# duplicating include:

- 2500 sheets of 8½" x 11" 20# $1.00 set up
- 1.25 master
- .016/sheet one side
- .029/sheet two sides plus one extra master

There is no price difference for white or color paper.

2500 copies 2500 copies
.016 .029
$40.00 $72.50

Distribution would be through the UW Summer Orientation Program and the new freshman and new transfer student assemblies.

Material to be included in the handbook must be submitted to Jeff Luthi, Director of Summer Orientation Program, by July 1, 1982. Material will be collated and put into the handbook by the Summer Orientation staff.

In studying the concept of a student handbook during the past year, a review of student handbooks from other colleges and universities, input from the ASUW Student Living Committee of 1980-81, and input from other student and university sources has indicated the following contents would be desirable in a UW student handbook. Additions or deletions may be made in these sections.

Material in front of first divider:
