Farmer's Market

Get acquainted with our local Farmer's Market vendors. These folks sell garden produce, meat, eggs, mushrooms, baked goods, milk shares, and more. Support those who help us to: “Buy Fresh, Buy Local.”

Booths

Vendors will be displaying their newest products and services that promote gardening, landscaping, and outdoor recreation.

Workshops

We are planning lots of great workshops again this year to include Food Preservation, Perennials, Poultry, Gardening 101, Composting, Berries, Bees, and Marvelous Meals in the Mountains… to name a few.

Kid's Corner

Kids have a blast in our Kid’s Corner. This year we are arranging something special… The whole family will enjoy what we have planned.

Spring is just around the corner… so is the Expo and we’re growing!

This year we plan to expand our backyard a little to include the great outdoors. More information will be featured in our next newsletter. The Expo is something you won’t want to miss so Mark Your Calendar Now!

Composter Cost-Share

To kick-start your composting program, we are offering 50% cost share incentive on commercially built units from CompostTumbler® by Mantis to folks within our conservation district boundary. Individuals living outside of the District can take advantage of the bulk-buying discount but will not qualify for the cost-share.

We are offering three sizes of composting units to choose from to accommodate your individual needs as a back porch composter, small acreage landowner, or a larger scale operation. Units will be displayed at our office and at the Gardening and Backyard Living Expo. Those interested in participating will need to pre-pay and order by April 18th; delivery will be at the end of April.
