V Courses

- ECON 1200 Economics, Law and Government
- HIST 1211 United States History to 19–85
- HIST 1251 Wyoming History

C Courses

You need to take one each of:

- CA = Fine Arts
  (for example: Drawing I, Art History)
- CH = Humanities
  (for example: Western Civilization, Intro to Literature, History of Architecture)
- CS = Social Science
  (for example: Principle of Macroeconomics, Intro to Archaeology)

You can use a C class as a “wildcard” substitution for any of the above.

- C = CA, CH, or CS

Among your three C classes you need to have one G and one D. You also need an I, L, O and WB, but those are automatically covered in our curriculum. Therefore, you need to have a:

- G = Global Awareness
  (for example, History of Architecture is both a CH and a G)
- D = Diversity in the US
  (for example, American Indians in Contemporary Society is both a CS and a D)

If you are an ARE major, you will take ARE 3030, Architectural History, which is a CH and a G. Thus, choose your other two C classes to be a CA and CS and be sure to cover the D requirement.

As you can see, there is a wide variety of choices for C classes. Have fun and take classes that sound interesting to you and make sure you meet the requirements outlined above.
