Speech-Language Pathologist
Audiologist
American Sign Language

• Help people with difficulties in listening, speaking, reading, writing, thinking, hearing, balance, and even swallowing...
• Help the young, the elderly, and everyone in between.
• Work in hospitals, schools, or your own private practice.
• Careers with strong job demand nation-wide!
COME STUDY WITH US
• Small classes with caring instructors
• Academic challenge
• Quality clinical education
• Fascinating research opportunities
• State-of-the-art facilities
• Campus and distance education
• Scholarships and assistantships
• Student fellowship and leadership
• Speech and hearing services to the community

Degrees and Coursework in Communication Disorders
• Bachelor of Science in Speech, Language, and Hearing Science
• Campus and distance Master of Science in Speech Language Pathology (ASHA-CAA accredited)
• Pre-professional audiology and graduate tuition agreements with other western universities (WGRP)
• Coursework in American Sign Language (ASL)
• Campus and distance leveling courses for students with degrees from other fields

Complete information at
Web: www.uwyo.edu/comdis/
E-mail: comdis@uwyo.edu