UW REGULATION 5-1
Academic Personnel

A. ACADEMIC FREEDOM

Education flourishes only when academic personnel have both freedom and responsibilities in the conduct of their official duties. These duties include: teaching activities, including extension and outreach; research and other scholarly work; service; and shared governance. Adopting a system of freedoms and responsibilities helps ensure that the university can serve as a forum in which ideas may be examined openly and rigorously, without implying institutional endorsement. Although many of these freedoms are protected by the First Amendment of the Constitution, they also exist as a fundamental requirement of the mission of the university.

The university adheres to the principles of the 1940 “Statement of Principles on Academic Freedom and Tenure,” by the American Association of University Professors. The following expresses the meaning of that statement, updated for current values.

Academic freedom in teaching protects the rights of teachers to teach according to their expertise. Teachers are entitled to freedom in discussing their subject. Teachers have a responsibility to ensure that their teaching is effective and consistent with the standards of the discipline, understanding that disciplines may have diverse points of view on any given subject. Teaching may involve controversial material; however, with academic freedom in the classroom, teachers also have the responsibility to respect others’ freedom to express disagreement and alternate opinions.

Academic freedom in research is fundamental to the advancement of truth. Academic personnel are entitled to full freedom in research, publication of the results, and other scholarly activities that are part of their employment. Academic personnel have the responsibility to pursue research and scholarship with integrity and fidelity to their profession and the institution.

Academic freedom does not negate the rights of students and the public to disagree with academic personnel’s work, although students are expected to learn material with which they may disagree. Nor does academic freedom shield academic personnel’s work from the consequences of expert review by colleagues in their field of study, which is essential to the rigorous evaluation of teaching, research, and creative activity.

Freedom in university governance entails the rights of academic personnel to express their judgments about administrative matters that bear on the university’s mission. It includes the right to express agreement or disagreement with institutional policies and the positions of others, including university officials. Academic personnel have the responsibility to participate in university governance and service for the maintenance, health and improvement of the institution.

Freedoms of academic personnel also include the ability to invite guest speakers and artists, who are afforded the same academic freedoms and responsibilities of resident academic personnel. Invitation of guest speakers and artists does not imply university approval or endorsement of the expressed views.

When academic personnel speak or write as citizens, they should be free from institutional censorship or discipline. They should remember that the public may judge their profession and their institution by their utterances. Hence they should at all times be accurate, exercise appropriate restraint, show respect for others' right to disagree, and make it clear that they are not speaking for the institution.

47 professorial rank and for not more than one year in duration; however,
48 one may be reappointed annually by the Trustees subject to a
49 satisfactory annual performance evaluation and the availability of 50 external funding from contracts and grants. Service as a research
51 professor does not entitle one to tenure and its privileges.

52 f. Clinical professor shall be the title granted to those employed to teach
53 in health care related programs offered by the University; the college dean

65 prominence and, when appropriate, international recognition of

67 instructional; however, duties and responsibilities may also include some 68 research and advising. Such appointments shall be only at the
69 professorial rank and for not more than one year in duration; however,
70 one may be reappointed annually subject to a satisfactory annual 71 performance evaluation and available funding. Service as a professor of 72 practice does not entitle one to tenure and its privileges, nor does it
73 provide an alternative route to tenure or structure for to the conventional 74 tenure track positions path.

The general qualifications for faculty designation defined above may be waived or modified at the discretion of the President and the Trustees.

C. FACULTY APPOINTMENT

1. FULL-TIME FACULTY APPOINTMENTS

Faculty members shall be appointed by the Trustees. Recommendations for such appointments shall be initiated by the head of the unit in which the appointment occurs, after full consultation with members of the unit. The recommendations shall then be forwarded through the appropriate academic officers, who shall add their recommendations; the President of the University will then forward his/her recommendation to the Trustees. No appointment shall be binding upon the University unless accepted in writing by the faculty member within the time specified for response, following action by the Trustees. Appointments shall be for a specified period at the appropriate professorial rank as described in this regulation to be classified as follows:

a. Tenure-Track Appointments

Probationary appointments of tenure-track faculty filling a budgeted vacancy normally will be for one academic year; individuals so appointed will be considered for reappointment annually for the term of the probationary period specified in section D.

However, in appropriate circumstances, appointments may be for up to three years; continuation during the initial multi-year term will be contingent upon satisfactory annual performance evaluations. If one is reappointed at the termination of the full probationary period, s/he will be granted tenure. Credit for prior experience must be specified in the letter of offer and approved by the Vice President for Academic Affairs. In rare circumstances, tenure and tenure-track appointments may be less than full-time positions.

b. Temporary Appointments

Temporary appointments with faculty rank may be made to address specific instructional or research needs. Such appointments shall not be for more than one year in duration; however, temporary faculty may be reappointed annually subject to a satisfactory performance evaluation. Service as a temporary professor does not entitle one to tenure and its privileges.

c. Visiting Faculty Appointments

Visiting faculty appointments to address specific University instructional needs may be extended to faculty members from other institutions or professional persons who possess special expertise. Such appointments may be with professorial rank but shall not be for more than one year in duration; however, a visiting faculty member may be reappointed subject to a satisfactory performance evaluation. Service as a visiting professor does not entitle one to consideration for tenure and its privileges.

2. PART-TIME FACULTY APPOINTMENTS

The appointment of part-time faculty members during the academic year and for Summer Session will be made by the President of the University upon the recommendation of the appropriate academic officers.

3. EMERITUS APPOINTMENTS

Emeritus status may be awarded to those tenured faculty members and extended-term academic professionals who retire after long and distinguished service to the University. Nominations for emeriti status shall be initiated by the department head and/or dean; the nomination shall then be forwarded through the appropriate academic officers, who shall add their recommendations; the President of the University will then forward his/her recommendation to the Trustees.

4. ADJUNCT FACULTY APPOINTMENTS

Adjunct appointments may be made when deemed appropriate to make available to the University, on a limited or part-time basis, the services of persons who have attained recognition in their professional fields of scholarship, creativity, or other distinguished accomplishments relevant to University programs. Such appointments may be with faculty rank or clinical faculty status. Adjunct faculty may include academic personnel in other University departments or colleges as well as those employed outside the institution. Each letter of appointment shall set forth the terms and conditions under which services to the University are to be performed by the appointee. Such appointments provide no financial remuneration.

Adjunct appointments will be made by the Trustees of the University, upon the recommendation of the appropriate academic officers, for a period of not more than three years; however, an individual may be reappointed. Service as an adjunct professor does not entitle one to consideration for tenure and its privileges.

D. FACULTY REAPPOINTMENT, TENURE AND PROMOTION

To hold a position with tenure means that the faculty appointment is not subject to termination or substantial reduction in status without adequate justification as outlined in section E. DISMISSAL OF FACULTY below.

Therefore, the reappointment procedures are integrally related to the tenure and promotion decisions of those faculty serving probationary appointments. Only those tenure-track faculty who successfully complete this period and are approved by the Trustees, will receive tenure. An individual who is not offered tenure at the end of the probationary period shall not be retained as a faculty member.

The main criteria for reappointment, tenure and promotion decisions are creative development, advancement of knowledge, and dissemination of knowledge. These criteria may be demonstrated in the University's functions of teaching, research, creative contributions, extension, service to the state of Wyoming, professional service, and other University-related activities and services.
