Why are you excited to be a Peer Mentor for First Gen Scholars?

I'm excited to help incoming students that are in a similar situation as myself.

There is so much I want to share with these students, and so much I already know they will accomplish!

What is one piece of advice you would give to a first year, first generation student?

Never be afraid to ask questions or ask for help! College is scary, but the staff and faculty here at UW are some of the most helpful people. They want to help you and they want to see you succeed!
