

Katie Groke Ellis

WMST Graduate May 2003

Katie Groke Ellis is a senior associate at SE2, a Colorado-based integrated communications agency that works to change policy, opinion, and behavior. Prior to working at SE2, she was director of communications and marketing for Big Brothers Big Sisters of Colorado, as well as national program manager for The White House Project. While at UW, she played Division I Women's Soccer and was president of the Women's Action Network. She has worked with the NCAA, Choice USA, Springboard Enterprises, and Planned Parenthood of the Rocky Mountains. Groke Ellis has a master's degree in public administration from the University of Colorado at Denver. She sits on the board of directors for the Arvada West High School Foundation and the Women's Lobby of Colorado.
