Program Overview

ELECTIVE COURSES Elective courses serve to deepen students' process competencies or build knowledge for application of collaborative governance in specific contexts (natural resources, health, education, business, etc.). Context specific electives should focus on policy within that context. Students choose an elective in consultation with the Haub School graduate advisor. Examples of courses that could fulfill process or content learning objectives include the following, although students may propose other courses.

PROGRAM OVERLAP Students pursuing the Collaborative Governance minor who are currently working towards an ENR graduate major may not count ENR 5290 or ENR 5291 towards their ENR major. ENR 5450 (Negotiation) and one elective (approved for both the Collaborative Governance minor and the ENR major) may count for both.
