UW Art Museum Curatorial & Evaluation Internship Opportunity

Overview
The University of Wyoming Art Museum is seeking an intern to assist curators with a range of crucial tasks, including conducting exhibition evaluation in the galleries by asking visitors questions and documenting their responses. The intern organize the data collected for analysis. The intern will also assist with researching and writing about artworks for social media and other curatorial tasks. The internship will begin in September 2022 and conclude in April 2023. The intern will be compensated $15/hour, provided in partnership with the Honors College.

Located in the beautiful Centennial Complex, the University of Wyoming Art Museum shares in the transformative power of art through exhibiting, preserving, and interpreting visual culture from around the world. As an integral part of the University of Wyoming, we foster a deeper connection with humanity and a creativity that envisions new futures by engaging academic, local, state, national, and global communities.

Scope of Work
- Work 9-hours per week, up to 166 hours at $15/hour
- Assist curators with conducting exhibition evaluation in the galleries; this can include speaking with visitors about their experience, conducting timing and tracking evaluations, and assisting with organizing data collected
- Research and write interpretive text about art objects for social media
- Other curatorial tasks, such as creating objects checklists and searching objects database

Qualifications
- Motivated and reliable student excited to work on the exhibition project through completion
- Strong written and verbal communication skills
- Attention to detail
- Interested in art, art history, and exploring a future career in museums

For more information about the UW Art Museum and current exhibitions, visit our website: http://www.uwyo.edu/artmuseum/index.html

To apply please complete the online application by September 12, 2022. You will have to login with your UW credentials to apply.