ADA Employee Accommodation Request Form

This form is the initial step in processing your request for an accommodation under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). An accommodation is a reasonable modification or adjustment to the work environment that enables a qualified person with a disability to perform the essential functions of a position, or enjoy the same benefits and privileges of employment as non-disabled employees. In order to determine whether you are eligible for an accommodation under the ADA, ADA Compliance will ask for documentation of your medical condition. Having a medical condition alone is not enough to make you eligible for an accommodation. Under the ADA, an individual with a disability is a person with a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities, such as breathing, eating, sleeping, walking, talking, manual tasks, etc.

The ADA requires that ADA Compliance keep medical information confidential. However, the law allows the ADA Coordinator to share information regarding your medical information in limited circumstances with individuals who are considered to have a legitimate need to know this information. These persons can include your supervisor(s), human resources personnel, first aid and safety personnel, personnel investigating compliance with the ADA, and other persons considered to have a legitimate need to know. The law does not prohibit you from voluntarily discussing your condition or medical information with others.
