

BIOLOGICAL CONTROL

Lacewing larvae, commonly referred to as aphid lions, consume soft bodied pests such as spider mites, thrips, and aphids. Eggs and larvae can be released into greenhouses, fields, orchards, and gardens to achieve natural control.

IPM