The Wyoming Society for International Law presents:

Thursday, October 15, 2015
6:00 - 8:00 pm
College of Law, Room 178

Haydee Dijkstal

Haydee Dijkstra practices international criminal law and human rights law before international courts and tribunals in The Hague, The Netherlands. Most recently, she has represented victims before the International Criminal Court and had been part of defense teams in a number of high profile ICC cases. Haydee is a graduate of the University of Wyoming law school and holds an LLM in international and comparative law from George Washington Law School. She is a member of the bar of Illinois.

Rodney Dixon QC

Rodney Dixon QC is a British barrister based in London who practices in the Temple Garden Chambers. He combines a practice at the national and international levels in public law, human rights and criminal law. His expertise is in international criminal and humanitarian law and public international law acting on behalf of Governments, political leaders, military officers, international organisations, NGOs and victims. His work spans over a wide range of international criminal courts to private international law cases.

Sponsored by Wyoming Society for International law (WSIL) with support from ASUW the Center for International Human Rights Law and Advocacy International Human Rights Clinic University of Wyoming College of Law