CAREER CLIPS: MAY 2023 - 1L/2L EDITION

From the Director

Looking back on my time as a law student here at UW, I can appreciate the amount of anticipation you all have during this time of year. Completing finals brings stressful days, but the sense of accomplishment moving into the summer months also brings confidence and renewal.

It has been such a pleasure to watch you all work so diligently this year, in your studies and toward your career goals. Securing those internships and externships provides powerful experiences upon which you will continue to build your legal path.

I hope you all enjoy the sunshine and have many days of relaxation this summer. For those who are thinking of embracing an externship experience this fall, please be aware of the school placement deadline, which is the first Friday in July. Set that June calendar reminder now!

Please do not hesitate to reach out if you have any questions or concerns over the next few months. The college will be closed to the public this summer, due to construction, so I will be working remotely. Email me for questions or to set up a meeting.

I also want to make note that I will be on maternity leave October through December, but will be planning accordingly for my absence.

Your Summer Internship

With only a couple of summer opportunities for internship experience during law school, it is vital to maximize your efforts.

Improve at Least One Legal Skill

Whether you improve your legal writing or learn to effectively research issues, figure out which skills the job can help you improve and then work to accomplish that goal.

Find Out What You Like and Dislike

Use your summer experiences to explore possible career paths. This will help you narrow your search for future legal positions, especially approaching Fall OCI.

Establish a Good Reputation in the Office

One of the goals for the summer is to leave with a glowing letter of recommendation for your next job.

Start Building Your Network

Do not be afraid to ask your boss to help you meet as many people as possible outside of the office.

Get a Writing Sample

If most of your work is confidential, ask your boss if you can create a non-confidential project for yourself, related to the office's area that he or she can review and you can use as a writing sample.
