

Group Study Space Available on Campus

Following are some possible options for group study space on the University of Wyoming campus. As we approach the end of semester, some colleges may reserve study space for their own students, so use this list as a guide and not as policy. Please be aware that wherever you go, you represent the College of Law and shape the image of your future profession. Feedback regarding student behavior, both positive and negative, from these other units on campus, may be forwarded to our college deans.

College of Law

The Law Library has four group study rooms to reserve for 2 hours per group, to be extended if no other group has reserved the room. Rooms are reserved at the circulation desk (6-2210). Groups have priority over individuals. Beginning four weeks before finals, rooms are reserved for law students only.

- Room 123
- Blume Room
- Room 125a
- Room 008

Some College of Law classrooms can also be reserved if they are available when the library study rooms are full. Classes and other activities with reservations have priority over student study groups. Reservations are limited to 2 hours per group, and groups must be finished by 5:00. Reserve through the dean's office (6-6429). Towards the end of the semester, rooms may be available later in the day and on weekends.

Classroom Building

- Rooms 121, 123, 125, 139 and 308 can be reserved through Central Scheduling (6-2487). If the doors are locked, access is granted by asking at the main office on the main level of the Classroom Building.
- This building also has a coffee area with tables near the computer lab that could be used for discussions.

College of Business

- Rooms 12, 22, 25, 120, 124, 126, 130, 207, 220, and 223 are available. Rooms may be reserved for use during regular business hours by contacting the dean's office (6-4194).

College of Education

- Education Annex Building has an atrium for general use as well as the following classrooms: 211, 215, 225, 229, 304, 308, 314, and 318. Rooms may be reserved for use during regular business hours by contacting the dean's office (6-3145) or Central Scheduling (6-2487).
- Rooms 30, 45, and 47 in the College of Education may be reserved for use during regular business hours by contacting the dean's office (6-3145) or Central Scheduling (6-2487).

College of Engineering

- Rooms 1038, 1038A, 1040, and 1040A are available for small groups on a first come, first served basis during the hours of 7:00a.m.-7:00p.m.

UW Libraries

- Coe Library has 19 study rooms and the Library Annex has six that can be reserved online at <https://www-lib.uwyo.edu/reservearoom/>. Reservations are for up to four hours, which may be extended if no one else has reserved the room. Room keys are checked out at the Coe Help Desk and the Annex Circulation Desk.

Washakie

- Group study rooms 14 and 18 can be reserved by student study groups. There is also a community lounge area for general seating and use. The study rooms can seat up to 8 people and may be reserved at <http://www.uwyo.edu/reslife-dining/reservewashakie>. Call 6-3075 with questions.

Wyoming Union

- Wyoming Union room 33 has two study rooms inside the computer lab. These are available on a first come first serve basis.
- Nontraditional Student Center room 104 serves as a place for nontraditional students to hold study groups. Contact the Center (6-6258).
