Finals Edition

Volume 15, Issue 3

May 2021

From the Director

This week, we begin finals that will end what will be remembered as one of the most challenging and unusual academic years in the law school's history. Over the course of this year, with on-site staffing reduced, half of our carrels out of use, furniture removed from public spaces, mask mandates, and disinfectant and cleaning stations, we have all worked to do the best possible to get to this point. I would like to commend all of our students for their patience and goodwill during this historic time. For those of you moving on from the law school, we wish all good things in your future. The rest of you we hope to see again under improved circumstances in the fall semester.

I have a sad announcement to make before the semester ends. Our Head of Public Services, Professor Amy Pearce, will be leaving the law library after twelve years as part of our staff. She is moving with her family to St. Louis, Missouri. Amy has been a constant in the lives of our library users, especially our students. We send her off with best wishes for her happy future, though we will miss her very much here in Laramie. I know you are all busy at this time, but I hope some of you will get a chance to extend your own good-byes to her before she leaves.

Goodbye from Amy Pearce

It has been a delight to be a part of the Law Library and College of Law these past 12 years. We truly have a unique community of students, faculty and staff here, and it is a team environment I would be lucky to find in my next workplace. I will miss the College of Law and Laramie very much.

Technology

At this time, Edward has a limited number of laptops that he can loan for student use during finals. Please contact him by email at edwardh@uwyo.edu several days in advance of your finals to reserve one of them.

Students taking finals in the classroom should note that masks will be required, social distancing will be observed, and digital clocks will not be available.

Congratulations to our 2021 graduates!

If you are in the building, take a moment to view the graduation display on the digital sign at the entrance to the library.

Graduates, check out our Alumni Services page to see how we can continue to serve you as alumni.

 Goodbye!
