

Fall 2017 ESL Courses

ESL 1210. English Composition for International Students. 3. WA/COM 1.

1 section in fall, 1 section in spring

Accommodates students of different cultures and different levels of English proficiency. The objective is to equip students with procedural knowledge - a set of routines that can be applied in various academic writing patterns, such as description, process analysis, argumentation and the research essay.

CRN 14637 ESL 1210-01 M/W/F 11:00 –11:50am EA 211 Heinz

ESL 3050. Advanced Academic Writing for International Students. 3. WB/COM2

1 section, either fall or spring

Through ESL learner targeted instruction, practices, and feedback, the course will emphasize and progressively develop transferrable skills for students' academic work and future professions. It will continue to build on writing skills and emphasize foundational oral and digital communication skills

CRN 17969 ESL 3050-01 M/W/F 9:00 –9:50am EA 211 Heinz

ESL 4010. Technical Writing for International Students. 3. WC/COM 3, 1 section in fall, 1 in spring

Prepares students from a culturally diverse background for the communication demands of the 21st century. Students conduct rhetorical analysis of various audiences and purposes in order to design, develop, revise and edit disciplinary and interdisciplinary technical communications, such as reports, proposals, job applications, research related documents and oral presentations. Prerequisites: Junior standing, WA and WB or COM 1 and COM 2.

CRN17974 ESL 4010-01 M/W 5:35 – 7:00pm CR 113 Lipson

ESL 2110. English Oral Skills. 3., 1 section in fall, 1 section in spring, M/W/F

Oral English instruction for Intermediate level English speakers. Emphasis is on speaking practice (description/narration in all time frames), communication tools and oral presentations, while refining listening comprehension, pronunciation, intonation, and building vocabulary. Offered for S/U only.

CRN 14638 ESL 2110-01 M/W/F 10:00 – 10:50am EA 211 Heinz

LANG 4800-04. Graduate English Oral Skills. Preparation for Teaching Assistants. 3,

1 section in fall

NEW course offer for International Teaching Assistants! Develop oral English language skills and intelligibility required for participation in the American academic classrooms. Develop awareness of language and discourse and practice a variety of presentation skills for working with individuals and groups of students. Build your understanding of the culture of the American classroom. Build confidence in individual and small group teaching practice. This course includes videotaping and individualized feedback. Offered for S/U only.

CRN 15173 LANG 4800-04 M/W 4:10 – 5:25pm CR 113 Heinz