

School of Pharmacy

Scholarship Profile

Nancy McKee
Class of 2018
Laramie, WY

Student Bio

Nancy chose pharmacy after she fell in love with working in the pharmacy and she knew she wanted to gain more knowledge and responsibility. She chose UW because of the feeling that she got when she visited. She shares "the student ambassadors were a great asset to the interview process and the staff does a great job which made all the difference for me."

Nancy is interested in completing rotations in Geriatrics, Medicaid, Military Pharmacy and Anticoagulation. She says having a good support network has helped her the most to be successful in school. She says "I have learned that participating in student activities is a nice break from the day to day stress of pharmacy school. The important thing to remember is that you don't have to do it all, pick one or two things that you are really interested in and don't over stretch yourself."

While at UWSOP she has enjoyed participating in national and regional meetings. She notes that gaining the experience of giving presentations in pharmacy school has allowed her to be more confident in giving speeches and presentations in her internships. Nancy had the opportunity to be involved in the URLEND fellowship, which was a great chance to learn about neurodevelopmental disabilities from a multi-disciplinary team.

After graduation Nancy plans to work in retail pharmacy.

Marilyn Jeanne Baldwin Memorial Scholarship

This scholarship was established in memory of Dean John Baldwin's late wife, Marilyn Jeanne Baldwin, and is awarded to a female student who is active in student organizations and who exemplifies characteristics of Mrs. Baldwin, including an outgoing personality, love for life, and superior academic performance in the School of Pharmacy. Mrs. Baldwin believed that anyone can achieve their goals.
