Ricardo “Rick” Nogueira is the Climate Finance Team Lead in the Office of Global Change at the U.S. Department of State. In this role he oversees climate finance negotiation efforts and serves as the alternate U.S. board member on the Green Climate Fund, the largest multilateral climate fund. Rick was previously the Director of EEA North America, where he was responsible for founding and managing a $400 million clean energy fund (Leaf Clean Energy Company) and also oversaw the US and Latin American portfolios of Trading Emissions plc, an AIM listed carbon and clean energy investment fund. From 2000 to 2005, Nogueira was a senior associate at the law firm of Van Ness Feldman focusing on CDM transactions and climate policy. Prior to Van Ness Feldman, he spent 3 years with the Brazilian law firm of Felsberg & Associados, where he was involved in some of the earliest CDM projects. He holds a BA from Lafayette College and a JD from Seton Hall School of Law.
