LEADERSHIP IN THE STEM FIELD

learnings and opportunities when transitioning from a technical to leadership role

Caryn Campbell is the Director of Operations for Enbridge's Southwest Region, responsible for the safe and reliable operations of pipeline and terminal assets across seven states. Throughout her career, Caryn has held numerous leadership roles, leading planning, design, engineering, project execution and operational teams in both Canada and the US. Caryn holds a B.Sc. in Civil Engineering from the University of Manitoba and a Certificate in Leadership Coaching from Mount Royal University. She is a coach and mentor to women in STEM and is active in leadership development.
