I, ______________________________________, have read the BSW Student Handbook. I am aware of the policies and procedures that guide the Division of Social Work and that the Handbook is a guide for students. It is not a contract and does not supersede university and trustee regulations. I understand that I should use the Handbook as a resource to proceed smoothly through the social work program.

I, ________________________________________, have read the UW Student Code of Conduct and the NASW Code of Ethics. All students who attend the University of Wyoming must adhere to the UW Student Code of Conduct. The NASW Code of Ethics are the national standards that define the professional behavior of social workers. I agree to behave according to the UW Student Code of Conduct and the NASW Code of Ethics. I am aware that I may be sanctioned, placed on probation or terminated from the social work program for violating the UW Student Code of Conduct and/or the NASW Code of Ethics. I also understand that I may utilize the Student Grievance Procedure articulated in the UW Student Handbook, the BSW Handbook and Field Practicum Manual if I believe the decision to terminate was made with “prejudice, capricious, or arbitrary treatment.”

I, ______________________________, understand that I may be sanctioned, placed on probation or terminated from the social work program for nonacademic reasons. These reasons are articulated in the UW Student Handbook, BSW Handbook and the Field Practicum Manual. Non-academic termination may be initiated if one or more of the following occurs:

- Violates the UW Student Code of Conduct
- Fails to meet generally accepted standards of professional conduct, personal integrity or emotional stability requisite for professional practice;
- Fails to demonstrate the effective interpersonal skills necessary to perform professional helping relationships;
- Fails to behave according to the NASW Code of Ethics;
- Displays inappropriate or disruptive behavior toward clients, colleagues, faculty, or staff, which interferes with professional judgment or jeopardizes the best interest of those to whom the Social Work Student has a professional responsibility.

I understand that I will be notified before being sanctioned, placed on probation or terminated from the social work program and may utilize the Student Grievance Procedure articulated in the UW Student Handbook, BSW Handbook and Field Practicum Manual if I believe the decision to terminate was made with “prejudice, capricious, or arbitrary treatment.”
