Valued Laramie Business,

Poke Pride for the University of Wyoming can be felt throughout the campus and community year-round. There is a certain time of the year where this pride is particularly special as students, alumni, fans, staff, faculty, and the community come together to celebrate Homecoming because once a cowboy, always a cowboy.

Over Homecoming there are a variety of events to attend. These events range from student competitions to college open house celebrations, tailgate parties, downtown events, the annual Homecoming parade planned by the WYO-Gold Student Alumni Association, and much more. Through Homecoming registration alumni can update their contact information, pick up their event booklet and receive discounts to the University Store and UW Art Museum. While the University of Wyoming Alumni Association (UWAA) is in charge of overseeing Homecoming, there is a committee made up of university employees from a variety of campus departments that plan and prepare for this large event.

The kick-off to this exciting week centers on The Big Event, which is a large-scale, student run service day benefiting the Laramie community. This event is planned by a committee, separate from the Homecoming committee, of UW and city employees. It is coordinated through the Service, Leadership and Community Engagement Office (SLCE). The mission of this event is to dedicate a day out of the year to say “thank you” to the community for selflessly and patiently supporting UW students on a daily basis. Students participating in The Big Event serve the local community through small acts of service at local residents’ homes, churches, schools, parks, and other locations across Laramie. These services include but are not limited to, raking leaves, washing windows, weeding flowerbeds, painting houses, planting trees, and other every day chores. Last year, 700 students volunteered to accomplish 2,800 hours of service at almost 100 locations. The Big Event strives to uphold the ideals of unity and service. The event is not about the number of jobs completed, or the number of students who participate each year. Instead, it is the interaction between students and residents, and the appreciation, unity and mutual respect that is developed that makes The Big Event such a unique project.

A large part of organizing a successful Big Event and Homecoming is through sponsorship opportunities; both in-kind and monetary. This is the first year opportunities are available to sponsor Homecoming. Creating awareness and engagement surrounding these events requires promotional items, brainstorming new and exciting activities, and much more. Please see the enclosed sponsorship form for details regarding each of the below levels. Sponsorship provides an opportunity for you to increase your brand awareness to those participating in The Big Event and Homecoming. It also highlights your support of UW in the community.

MISSION

Through service oriented activities, The Big Event promotes campus and community unity, as University of Wyoming students come together for one day to express their gratitude for the support from the surrounding community.

WHY?

Throughout the years, the community of Laramie has shown endless support for the students of UW. The Big Event’s goal is to reciprocate that appreciation by serving residents. This year, on October 1st, 2016; University of Wyoming students will spend their Saturday morning completing service projects in the Laramie community. These jobs can include raking, painting, window washing, yard work and much more.

CORE VALUES

The Big Event is an event that strives to uphold the ideals of unity and service. This one-day event is not based on socioeconomic need, but rather a way for the student body to express their gratitude to the entire community. It is important to remember The Big Event is not about the number of jobs completed or the number of students who participate each year. Instead, it is the interaction between students and residents, and the unity that results throughout the community that makes The Big Event such a unique project.
