

UW ECHO in Assistive Technology Session Agenda

Facilitator(s):	Wendy Warren
Collaborating Entities:	Wyoming Department of Education (WDE) and Wyoming Assisitive Technology Resources
Professional Development Presenter:	Mike Marotta, ATP
Professional Development Training Description and Objectives:	Using the power of Chrome, we can provide supports for learners not only on Chromebooks, but on ANY computer using the Chrome browser. This session will focus on the Chrome Operating System (used on the Chromebook), built in accessibility tools and the use of apps and extensions to customize the learning experience for each learner. 1. Understand a minimum of three core differences between a Chromebook, standard computer and tablet technology tool for education. 2. Experience assistive technology hardware supports to use with the Chrome platform to meet the diverse needs of all learners. 3. Identify at least three examples of utilizing Google Apps for Education, both in the classroom and at home, to facilitate student learning in the areas of: Literacy, learning, researching and executive function.
