Facilitator(s): Canyon Hardesty

Professional Development Presenter: Kelly Hornby

Standards-based grading and twenty-first-learning are hot topics today in education, which is also an issue that is frequently avoided due to time, energy and politics. This session exposes some of the holes in CCSD’s journey and identifies our attempt at some practical solutions of which we are exploring. From the onset the goal has been to improve student achievement, knowing that providing feedback is key to this journey.

1. Learn how to identify practical solutions for gaps found in standardized-based grading.
2. Learn how to improve student achievement through feedback given to schools and district.
