NOTICE: These papers were produced as a part of the activities of the Wyoming Institute for the Study and Development of Mathematical Education (WISDOM®), under support from the Wyoming Excellence in Higher Education Endowment that provides annual funding to the Wyoming Excellence Chair for Mathematics Education, currently held by Professor Larry L. Hatfield (lhatfiel@uwyo.edu).

WISDOM® is a developing virtual Institute based at the University of Wyoming, consisting of a global consortium of individuals committed to collaborative research and scholarship related to specific targeted domains of inquiry in Mathematics Education: quantitative reasoning, mathematical modeling, technology tools and applications, and lived/living mathematical experience. A series of thematic Institute monographs will be published to promote study and communication related to these focal domains. Persons wishing to explore participation as a WISDOM® Affiliated Scholar are encouraged to contact Dr. Hatfield for further information.
