

Figure 5-42. Neuroendocrine reflex arc of milk let-down. Putative neurotransmitters involved in the neural component of the arc are acetylcholine, dopamine, and norepinephrine. Milk let-down is inhibited by adrenal medullary (sympathetic) activation (ie., epinephrine), opiates, and serotonin.