

Statement of Collaboration:
Outlining Project ECHO® Collaborations with Community Partners

Description of Project ECHO®

The mission of Project ECHO® (Extension for Community Healthcare Outcomes) at the University of Wyoming, Center on Aging (WyCOA) is to develop the capacity to safely and effectively manage geriatric care in rural and underserved areas. In pursuit of this mission, Project ECHO® faculty, staff and partners have dedicated themselves to de-monopolizing knowledge in order to expand access to best-practice medical care in Wyoming, across the United States, and globally.

Commitment to Collaboration – Project ECHO®

In the spirit of collaboration Project ECHO® is committed to working with community partners. Project ECHO® offers to do the following:

1. Provide CME credit at no cost from the Colorado Medical Society for participating in UW ECHO® in Geriatrics Networks (hour = 1 CME credit) conducted via teleconference. In addition, Continuing Education will be provided for Nursing from WHA, Pharmacy from WPharmA, Psychology from WPA, Social Work and other healthcare professionals and social service providers from WyCOA at no cost.
2. Provide routine, remote IT user support to facilitate connectivity and participation.
3. Offer regular didactic presentations on a wide range of disease states and medicine specialties.
4. Offer special curricula and training opportunities in various disease states and models of care delivery.
5. Review patient cases presented by clinicians at partnering clinics and provide timely, written recommendations.
6. Be available when possible outside of teleconference times for emergent questions or issues, as necessary.
