

Wyoming Field Guide
<http://fieldguide.wyndd.org>

With the support and cooperation of our partners, WYNDD is excited to launch a new, online Field Guide application. This application provides detailed, Wyoming-specific information, photos and maps for key species of concern in Wyoming.

The Field Guide currently features accounts for:

- All bird and mammal Species of Greatest Conservation Need (SGCN)
- 471 plant Species of Concern or Potential Concern, including all Threatened, Endangered, and Sensitive plants.

Content within the species accounts will be maintained and updated by WYNDD biologists, in consultation with our agency partners, as new information become available. The slate of species covered by the Field Guide will be expanded as time and funding allow.
