Discussion: Guests Tiffany Dobler and David Yanoski presented information on Research Work Group Proposals: 2017-01 from the College of Education Research Work Group for a pilot of Mursion software providing virtual reality experiences for early clinical experiences for candidates; 2017-02 from the Elementary Education Research Work Group for an intensive, comprehensive curriculum review in partnership with Special Education; 2017-03 from the Special Education Research Work Group for the development of an undergraduate program leading to the Wyoming Special Education License; and 2017-04 from the Special Education Research Work Group for a pilot of an academic-year-long residency for Special Education student teacher interns.

Council members asked questions regarding each of the proposals to inform their individual reviews of each.

Council members agreed to complete and submit their individual reviews of the four proposals by the end of the day on Monday, June 5, 2017. Further, Council members agreed to hold a meeting on Friday, June 9, 2017 to review the compiled review results and to come to consensus on determinations for each of the four proposals.

Votes/Actions: No votes were taken at the meeting.
