Provost Kevin Carman invites applications from internal candidates to serve as Vice Provost for Undergraduate Education (VP-UG). The VP-UG is a member of the Academic Affairs leadership team and is expected to provide strong and visionary leadership to support the university’s commitment to excellence in undergraduate programs. The VP-UG reports directly to the Provost and oversees 200 personnel in five supporting units.

The new VP-UG will demonstrate a commitment to student success and have a talent for being able to work within and across academic and administrative units to promote a climate that is optimal for academic and social development. Individuals who are solution-oriented; have leadership styles that influence, inspire, and produce results; and have the ability to think critically, work collaboratively, and communicate effectively in a complex, changing, and challenging landscape are encouraged to apply.

Essential Duties

- Provide visionary leadership in support of excellence in undergraduate education in accordance with the university and division strategic plans.
- Administer undergraduate student policies related to undergraduate student processes, including but not limited to academic dishonesty, grade appeals, and classroom grievances.
- Provide leadership for undergraduate student success and support services, including but not limited to the coordination, implementation, and assessment of the University Studies Program; oversight of academic programs that report directly to Academic Affairs; and facilitation of processes in proposing, vetting, and initiating new undergraduate degrees and certificates.
- Provide leadership and support of military program guidelines for our ROTC units.
- Build strategic partnerships with Wyoming community colleges to develop robust co-advising and co-admission structures that provide seamless opportunities for community college students to transition to UW into a major of their choice. This will include promoting coordination between academic advisors, the Office of Transfer Relations, Enrollment Management, and the Student Success and Graduation Hub.
- Assure that courses required for timely degree completion are offered in a strategic manner. This includes working with deans and academic advisors to optimize Summer and J-term classes that are most impactful for student progression.
- Provide leadership and decision making regarding the advising experience for students. Assuring that optimal structures are in place to provide students with timely and appropriate academic guidance.
- Monitor undergraduate course offerings to maximize efficiency of offerings. This includes minimizing the number of sections that are below the enrollment minimum of 10 students, monitoring DFW rates to assure consistency in course expectations across multiple sections, and encouraging programs to reduce the number of course options required to meet a degree requirement.
- Collaborate with university officers, administrators, and faculty on the development and review of new university regulations, policies, and procedures, and strategic initiatives to enhance undergraduate education, including but not limited to those related to academic program review and educational access.
- Assist deans and academic program leads in ensuring productivity and timeliness of student degree completion, student retention, and to implement undergraduate program assessment.
• Serve as the university’s Higher Learning Commission liaison officer, coordinate university-wide assessment processes, and where appropriate represent the university to state committees and initiatives.
• Carry out other duties assigned by the Provost.
