ABOUT US »

The Wyoming Blockchain Stampede, hosted by the University of Wyoming's Center for Blockchain and Digital Innovation, is a premier event bringing together industry leaders, policymakers, and innovators to explore the applications of blockchain and Bitcoin technologies. This year's event, taking place from September 16-20 in Laramie, Wyoming, will feature a Bitcoin Mining & Energy Summit, influential industry speakers, hands-on workshops, and legislative sessions with the Wyoming Blockchain Select Committee.

UW IS THE RIGHT PLACE »

We at the University of Wyoming are ideally suited and uniquely positioned to make huge strides in pushing the Bitcoin and blockchain industries forward—something we've been working toward for years.

- The Wyoming State Legislature has passed 30+ digital asset laws that address banking, payment processing, and tax exemptions for digital asset companies.

- The Wyoming Advanced Blockchain Laboratory is researching formal verification, smart contracts, and secure hardware related to real-world blockchain applications.

- The Cybersecurity Education and Research Center provides centralized resources to university, government, and industry partners in cybersecurity.

- The Bitcoin Mining Initiative is dedicated to positioning Wyoming as a leader in Bitcoin mining through a comprehensive approach that encompasses policy development, educational programs, and driving economic development to attract and sustain Bitcoin mining enterprises in the state.

STAMPEDE SPONSORSHIPS

The Wyoming Blockchain Stampede is an incredible experience for stakeholders, state leaders, community members, industry partners, and sponsors alike. UW students have the opportunity to develop new technical skills, build something they're passionate about, meet other students and companies, and learn from the industry's best (i.e. you!).
