John A. Fields was a United Airlines pilot for forty-one years. He began flying in 1939.

The John A. Fields papers relate to aviation and more specifically, civilian pilot training in the 1940s. The material is divided in the following way:

Box 1

- 1940 and 1941 informational bulletins from the Civil Aeronautics Administration
- booklet on flight maneuvers from 1942
- sectional maps from 1947
- World War II era book on the ground identification of American and Japanese airplanes

Artifact Storage

- United Airlines uniform buttons and emblems from 1944
- civilian pilot emblems from 1941 and 1942
- Federal Aviation Administration Crew Member Card from 1969, including a photograph of Fields

John A. Fields donated the material in March, 1990.
