Introduction

Francis P. Garvan

Papers, 1856-1976

240 cubic feet + artwork (528 document boxes, 5 slim document boxes, 1 F17, 5 oil paintings)

Accession Number 6090

The Francis P. Garvan Papers were donated to the American Heritage Center by the Mabel Garvan Estate. The papers were received from 1974 to 1986 and were in poor condition. Eighteen cubic feet of legal records were not relative to the Chemical Foundation, Inc., and twenty cubic feet of routine financial receipts were separated from the collection.

The collection should be cited as Francis P. Garvan Papers, 1856-1976, Accession Number 6090, Box Number, Folder Number, American Heritage Center, University of Wyoming.

Biography

Francis P. Garvan (1875-1937) was born in Hartford, Connecticut. He graduated from Yale University with a Bachelor of Arts Degree and then studied law at the Catholic University in Washington, D.C. and New York Law School. After graduation in 1899 he practiced law until appointed to the Staff of the District Attorney's Office of New York City in 1900. As Assistant District Attorney for eight years he distinguished himself as an investigator of Crime and Prosecution of Criminals. He instituted procedures which were still in use in the 1940s. During this time Mr. and Mrs. Garvan organized the Catholic Protective League to intercede for uneducated Catholics brought to trial.

The years from 1910 to 1917 were devoted to general legal practice, administration of philanthropic organizations and a study of social problems as related to government. Upon the entry of the United States into the First World War, Mr. Garvan was made Chief of the United States Bureau of Investigation and Manager of the New York Office of the Alien Property Custodian. In this capacity he learned about the almost complete dependence of the country upon Germany for its organic chemical supplies. By 1919, when A. Mitchell Palmer was appointed Attorney General, President Wilson had decided that the large number of German patents held and administered by the Alien Property Custodian would be practically the only compensation the nation would obtain from the war. They would form the foundation on which a complex synthetic organic chemical industry could be built.

The Chemical Foundation, Inc., as conceived by Mr. Garvan and approved by President Wilson, then came into existence. The charter provided for taking title to the seized German patents and for the issue of nonexclusive licenses for the patents to persons, firms, or corporations in the United States who wanted to build a competitive chemical industry in this country for the advantage of the government and the people. In addition, the foundation was to have authority to do anything to promote and encourage a general chemical industry.

The organization of the Chemical Foundation, Inc. and the selection of Mr. Garvan as its president marked a turning point in his career. Although he had just accepted the deanship of Fordham University's School of Law and had a private law practice, he decided to devote most of his time to making the Chemical Foundation, Inc. the most powerful and constructive agency to establish research in all the applied sciences. As funds became available from licenses of the foundation's patents, they were used to form an educational program and to fund medical research on the cause, prevention, and cure of cancer, tuberculosis, leprosy, streptococcus infection of the blood, the common cold, children's diseases, muscle diseases, sinus infections, and kidney disease. Assistance to research in biological chemistry, such as the production of biological strains, behavior of proteins, isolation of the active principle of vitamins, radiological studies, and celloid chemistry produced results of great practical value.

After his research and educational programs were laid out and well under way, he devoted himself to a study of the fundamental economic, social, legislative, and political factors that control the development of chemical industries. He worked to remove obstacles and to set up safeguards to stimulate their development. He was instrumental in securing the enactment of protective legislation for these industries without which they could not have survived foreign competition. He appeared before trade associations, legislative bodies of state and nation, government committees, grange movements, educational organizations, and scientific societies preaching the gospel of the importance of scientific research and the use of chemical industries for the solution of some of the nation's most perplexing economic and social problems, particularly in the agricultural industry. When financial assistance could not be obtained from government, state, industry, or financial institutions for the establishment of large scale research, he used the funds of the Chemical Foundation, Inc. A notable example is the paper research laboratories at Savannah, Georgia, which developed processes for the utilization of southern pine in newsprint paper manufacture under the direction of Charles H. Herty.

Mr. Garvan served as president of the Chemical Foundation, Inc. without compensation. Also, he successfully defended the action brought by the United States government against the foundation, in the Supreme Court.

In the 1930s, he formed the National Farm Chemurgic Council to promote the utilization of farm products for industrial purposes. For many years he was a Research Associate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The high value placed upon his contributions to the advancement of chemistry and science generally was recognized by presentation to him of the Priestley Medal, the highest award of the American Chemical Society. He also received the Mendel Medal, awarded annually by Villanova College to the Catholic who has singly advanced the cause of science. In both instances he was the only layman to ever receive the awards.

Series Description

The Francis P. Garvan Papers are arranged in 2 series:

Series I. Chemical Foundation Inc., 1856-1970.

Sub-series 1. General Files, 1856-1970. (99 2/3 document boxes). Arranged alphabetically. Regarding chemistry, dyes, paper pulp industry, chemical research, textiles, insecticides, drugs, medical research, national defense, patents, economics, and politics. Includes correspondence, reports, newspaper and magazine clippings, brochures and pamphlets.

Sub-series 2. Correspondence, 1900-1957.

Sub-sub-series 1. Patents, Copyrights, and Prospective Licenses, 1904-1953 (27 1/3 document boxes). Arranged alphabetically. Between the Chemical Foundation and companies requesting information about patent rights and possible licenses.

Sub-sub-series 2. Contributions, 1907-1953. (26 document boxes). Arranged alphabetically. Between the Chemical Foundation and universities, scientists, and scientific societies regarding research on chemistry, medicine, and agriculture.

Sub-sub-series 3. Stockholders, 1919-1953. (11 document boxes). Arranged alphabetically. Between the Chemical Foundation and stockholders regarding stockholder meetings and Chemical Foundation policies.

Sub-sub-series 4. Import Royalties, 1914-1939. (7 document boxes). Arranged alphabetically. Between Chemical Foundation and companies wanting to import dyes from Europe.

Sub-sub-series 5. Imported Manufactured Products, 1904-1943. (5 document boxes). Arranged alphabetically. Between Chemical Foundation and companies importing Products which infringe patents held by the Chemical Foundation.

Sub-sub-series 6. Royalties, 1900-1952. (42 document boxes). Arranged alphabetically. Between the Chemical Foundation and companies licensed by the foundation. Includes royalty reports.

Sub-sub-series 7. Miscellaneous, 1919-1957. (59 document boxes and 1 slim document box). Arranged alphabetically. Between the Chemical Foundation and people requesting information about the foundation's goals and publications, job opportunities, patents, and chemistry.

Sub-series 3. Chemical Foundation, Inc. Corporate Records, 1919-1970.

Sub-sub-series 1. Administrative Files, 1919-1952. (9 ½ document boxes). Arranged alphabetically. Includes Certificate of Incorporation, By-Laws, lists of patents and inventions owned by the foundation, reports regarding licenses, patents, contracts, corporate policies, Corporation of New York, Corporation Trust Company, Advisory Committee and Board of Trustees, memoranda, Stock Transactions, minutes of Directors, and Trustee meetings.

Sub-sub-series 2. Financial Files, 1919-1970. (7 ½ document boxes). Arranged alphabetically. Includes auditor's reports, lists of assets, royalty accounts, tax, salary and unemployment records, and cash ledgers.

Sub-series 4. Chemical Foundation of Kansas, Inc., 1894-1949. (12 document boxes and 1 slim document box). Arranged alphabetically. Regarding the National Agrol Company, The Atchison Agrol Company, and the production and marketing of power alcohol. Includes correspondence, reports, pamphlets, documents, contracts, newspaper and magazine clippings, press releases, financial records, legal briefs and arguments, and bankruptcy proceedings of The Atchison Agrol Company.

Sub-series 5. Inventions, 1876-1957. (11 document boxes). Arranged alphabetically. Regarding inventors employed by the Chemical Foundation and inventions seized from Germany during the First World War. Includes patents, correspondence, patent application and amendments to applications, specifications and claims, newspaper and magazine clippings, and patent office motions. There are also letters of patent by Farbwerke Vorm, Meister Lucino & Bruning confiscated by the Alien Property Custodian.

Sub-series 6. Trademarks, 1882-1957.

Sub-sub-series 1. General Files, 1907-1949. (2 document boxes and 1 slim document box). Arranged alphabetically. Regarding requests for licenses for trademarks owned by the Chemical Foundation, trademark laws and registration. Includes correspondence, memoranda, and legal briefs.

Sub-sub-series 2. Registered Trademarks, 1882-1957. (17 document boxes). Arranged numerically by registration number. Includes patent office registration, correspondence, abstracts of title and pamphlets.

Sub-series 7. Steel and Iron Industry of the United States, 1910-1946. (61 document boxes). Arranged alphabetically. Regarding companies Licensed by the Chemical Foundation to manufacture steel and iron products, and companies requesting licenses. Includes correspondence, memoranda, production and royalty reports, and newspaper and magazine clippings.

Sub-series 8. American Chemical Society, 1916-1956. (4 document boxes and 1 slim document box). Arranged alphabetically. Regarding the Prize Essay Contest and Journal of Chemical Education (both were sponsored by the Chemical Foundation), chemical research, the American Chemical Industries Tercentenary, and society meetings. Includes miscellaneous correspondence, reports of committees, financial records and the Prize Essay Contest rules and winners.

- Sub-series 9. National Farm Chemurgic Council, 1934-1947. (7 document boxes and 1 slim document box). Arranged alphabetically. Regarding coordinating agriculture, industry and science to increase the production and purchasing power of farmers. The council was founded by Francis P. Garvan and supported by the Chemical Foundation and Henry Ford. Includes articles of incorporation, by-laws, committee minutes and reports, Dearborn Conference proceedings, and financial records.
- Sub-series 10. Nitrogen, 1911-1939. (3 document boxes). Arranged alphabetically. Regarding the Chilean nitrate industry, the fixation of nitrogen fertilizers, and world trade in nitrogen, methanol and ammonia. Includes correspondence and reports.
- Sub-series 11. Alien Property Custodian, 1906-1958. (16 document boxes). Arranged alphabetically. Regarding Francis P. Garvan as custodian and president of the newly formed Chemical Foundation, Inc. ordered by President Wilson, Trading With The Enemy Act, reparations, dyestuff legislation, and lawsuits against the custodian to regain patents seized for the Chemical Foundation. Includes memoranda, reports, legal briefs, correspondence, newspaper and magazine clippings.
- Sub-series 12. Legal Files, 1885-1941. (33 document boxes). Arranged alphabetically. Regarding lawsuits by the Chemical Foundation over patent infringement of asphenamine and hydrogenation of petroleum patents and the United States against the Chemical Foundation to recover seized patents for Germany. Includes correspondence, legal pleadings, newspaper and magazine clippings.

Sub-series 13. Federal Trade Commission Section 10 Lawsuits, 1917-1959. (9 document boxes). Arranged alphabetically. Regarding Federal Trade Commission licenses, Trading With The Enemy Act and lawsuits in which the Chemical Foundation is not the plaintiff. Includes correspondence, legal briefs, testimony, dockets, and lists of trials.

Sub-series 14. Scrapbook Material, 1909-1944. (5 document boxes). Arranged alphabetically. Regarding the dye trade, lawsuits against the Chemical Foundation and the Alien Property Custodian, the founding and management of the Chemical Foundation, the life of Francis P. Garvan, Charles Herty, the establishment of the Southern Pine paper industry, and the return of seized property. Includes speeches and newspaper and magazine clippings.

Sub-series 15. Printed Material, 1915-1937.

Sub-sub-series 1. Books, 1927-1936. (1 ½ document boxes). Arranged alphabetically by author. Commissioned by the Chemical Foundation and distributed free to educational and public libraries. Regarding chemistry, the Farm Chemurgic Council movement, and foreign trade.

Sub-sub-series 2. United States Documents, 1915-1937. (3 ½ document boxes). Arranged alphabetically by title. Regarding the munitions industry, Trading With The Enemy Act, Congressional hearings on dyestuff tariffs and embargos at which Francis P. Garvan or other officers of the Chemical Foundation testified, Department of Commerce reports on dyes, briefs and testimony by the Chemical Foundation, proceedings, and reports.

Sub-sub-series 3. Pamphlets, 1919-1937. (1 document box). Arranged alphabetically. Regarding the Chemical Foundation, dyes, economics, patents, and the chemical industry. They are primarily by or about the Chemical Foundation, Inc.

Series II. Personal Papers, 1900-1976.

- Sub-series 1. Correspondence, 1900-1976. (32 ½ document boxes). Arranged alphabetically. Between Francis P. Garvan and his family, friends, and colleagues relating to sports, charities, and professional associations.
- Sub-series 2. Francis P. Garvan Research Foundation, 1928-1954. (1 ½ document boxes). Arranged alphabetically. Includes correspondence, financial records and minutes of the Board of Directors.
- Sub-series 3. District Attorney of New York County, 1910-1918. (2 document boxes). Arranged alphabetically. Includes correspondence, notes, indictments, and transcripts primarily about police corruption and prostitution. There is also material about the Triangle Waist Fire.
- Sub-series 4. Legal Files, 1902-1931. (5 document boxes). Arranged alphabetically). Lawsuits filed by or against Francis P. Garvan regarding property and investment claims. Includes correspondence, legal pleadings, and testimony.
- Sub-series 5. Francis P. Garvan Estate, 1928-1954. (5 ½ document boxes). Arranged alphabetically. Regarding assets and liabilities of the estate and disbursement of funds by the executors to satisfy claims on the estate. Includes correspondence, appraisals and inventories of belongings.
- Sub-series 6. Anthony N. Brady Estate, 1910-1934. (1 ½ document boxes and 1 F17). Arranged alphabetically. Regarding disbursement of assets of the estate. Includes correspondence, legal pleadings and a ledger with index.
- Sub-series 7. Paintings, 1930s. 43" X 31.5". 5 oil portraits of Chemical Foundation figures by Augustus Vincent Tack.

Scope and Content

The Francis P. Garvan Papers, 1856-1976, consist of extensive files regarding the organization and operation of the Chemical Foundation, Inc. There are general files, 1856-1970, which contain information on subjects that the foundation funded and or promoted. There are files regarding chemistry, dyes, paper industry, textiles, insecticides, patents, economics, politics, national defense, chemical and medical research.

The Chemical Foundation, Inc. correspondence, 1900-1957, is between the foundation, companies licensed by it, scientists, and people interested in the foundation's goals and policies. These files were organized by the foundation into seven subjects, patents, contributions, stockholders, import royalties, imported manufactured products, domestic royalties and miscellaneous letters from the general public.

There are corporate records, 1918-1952, that contain information about finances, the extent of patents licensed and corporate policies. They included lists of patents and inventions, contracts, memoranda, stock transactions, minutes of the trustees and the Board of Directors, auditor's reports, lists of assets, and some salary and unemployment records.

The Chemical Foundation of Kansas, Inc., 1894-1949, was a subsidiary of the Chemical Foundation, Inc. It was created by Francis P. Garvan to research and market power alcohol as a substitute for gasoline. The production companies were the National Agrol Company and the Atchison Agrol Company. The file includes correspondence, reports, pamphlets, documents, contracts, publicity, financial records, legal briefs, agreements, and the bankruptcy proceedings of the Atchison Agrol Company.

There are official records of patents and inventions owned by the Chemical Foundation, Inc. 1882-1957. The control the foundation had over the steel and iron industry of the United States, 1910-1946, is well documented. There is information on the Chilean nitrate industry in the sub-series Nitrogen, 1911-1939.

There are files regarding the American Chemical Society, 1916-1956, which was financially supported by the foundation and ran their Prize Essay Contest. The files contain correspondence, reports of committees, financial records and the Prize Essay Contest records, posters and lists of winners.

The Alien Property Custodian Files, 1906-1958, document the founding of the foundation, the Trading With The Enemy Act, reparations, dyestuff legislation, and lawsuits against the custodian to recover patents seized for the use of the Chemical Foundation, Inc. The files contain correspondence, legal pleadings, memoranda, newspaper and magazine clippings.

The National Farm Chemurgic Council, 1934-1947, was founded by Francis P. Garvan to promote the cooperation of agriculture, industry, and science to increase the production and purchasing power of farmers. The files consist of information about the operation and meetings of the council. There are Articles of Incorporation, by-laws, committee minutes, Dearborn Conference Proceedings, and financial records.

The legal files, 1885-1941, are records of the lawsuits by the Chemical Foundation, Inc. over patent infringement of arsphenamine and hydrogenation of petroleum patents and the lawsuit the United States Government brought against the Chemical Foundation to recover seized patents for Germany. The Chemical Foundation won the lawsuit on appeal to the United States Supreme Court. The files include correspondence, legal pleadings, and newspaper and magazine clippings.

There are also the Federal Trade Commission Section 10 Lawsuits, 1917-1939, which sued many of the companies that the Chemical Foundation was considering suing. The lawsuits concern Federal Trade Commission licenses and the Trading With The Enemy Act. These are all lawsuits in which the Chemical Foundation is not a plaintiff. Files include correspondence, legal briefs, testimony, dockets and lists of trials.

There is scrapbook material, 1909-1944, regarding the dye trade, lawsuits against the Chemical Foundation, Inc. and the Alien Property Custodian, the founding and management of the Chemical Foundation by Francis P. Garvan, Charles H. Herty, and the establishment of the Southern Pine paper industry, and the return of seized property. These files include speeches, newspaper and magazine clippings.

There is a small amount of printed material, 1915-1937, which was either published by the Chemical Foundation, Inc. or about it. There are also documents containing testimony by foundation officers regarding tariffs and embargos on dyes.

The personal files, 1900-1976, contain information about Francis P. Garvan's family, associates, philanthropy, professional interests, and investments. There is correspondence, 1900-1976, records of the Francis P. Garvan Cancer Research Foundation, 1928-1954, and legal files, 1902-1931, about lawsuits brought by or against him. There are a few files about when he was District Attorney of New York County, 1910-1918. This material includes correspondence, notes, indictments and transcripts. These are primarily about police corruption and prostitution in New York City. There is also information about the Triangle Waist Factory Fire.

There are files about the settlement of the Francis P. Garvan Estate, 1928-1954. They contain correspondence about the assets and liabilities of the estate and disbursement of funds to satisfy claims. There are numerous lists of belongings and appraisals. There are a few files about the Anthony N. Brady Estate, 1910-1934. They are about the disbursement of the estate and the lawsuits filed to control the estate. There are also five oil portraits by Augustus Vincent Tack.
