

Fellowship for the Study of 20th Century American Popular Culture American Heritage Center, University of Wyoming

The American Heritage Center (AHC) at the University of Wyoming invites applications for the Fellowship for the Study of 20th Century American Popular Culture through March 31, 2026. The fellowship is designed to support research using the AHC's premier holdings in this field. It aims to support a 20-day research stay at the AHC for late postdoctoral investigators and new faculty who will use materials from the AHC's collections to explore various aspects of American popular culture.

We are dedicated to supporting a thriving and wide-ranging research community and encourage applications from scholars of all backgrounds, including those traditionally underrepresented in academic research. The AHC values the importance of considering history from many angles and welcomes diverse perspectives and approaches to research.

Collections

The AHC's performing arts collections are among the largest and most significant found nationally. Particular strengths include the papers and records of producers, directors, actors, musicians, and scriptwriters. The AHC also houses unique collections documenting the cartoon and comic book industry, increasingly recognized by scholars as having a significant impact on the nation's popular culture. Additionally, the AHC collects materials pertaining to the "Western image" as represented by writers, artists, filmmakers, and others. To explore the breadth of the AHC's collections and discover how they can support your research, please visit our website at uwo.edu/ahc/.

Features of the Fellowship

The fellowship includes a $3,000 stipend to support a one-month (20 business days) residency at the AHC. However, the stay can be divided into shorter periods or reduced in length to accommodate the fellow's schedule, with the stipend being prorated accordingly. Fellows will have access to personalized support from AHC staff and the opportunity to engage with the university community. The residency should be completed by August 31, 2027.

At the conclusion of their stay, fellows are expected to prepare a précis outlining the sources consulted, how those sources shaped the research findings, and how the fellow will incorporate this information into a final product. Fellows are expected to credit the AHC in any publications that use its collections and to provide the AHC with copies of final publication or work.

Application

Proposals should include the following:

- A project description (no more than three single-spaced pages) that includes:
 - An overview of the research question(s), methodology, and expected outcomes.
 - Specific reference to how the AHC's collections will significantly contribute to the ultimate success of the proposed project.
 - A brief explanation of how the project aligns with the applicant's research interests and expertise.

Fellowship for the Study of 20th Century American Popular Culture
American Heritage Center, University of Wyoming

Additional attachments:

- The applicant's CV.
- A timeline outlining the plan of research and dates for anticipated products.
- Names and contact information of three references.

Please ensure that the project description does not exceed the three single-spaced page limit. The additional attachments (CV, timeline, and references) do not count toward this page limit.

Email all application materials as one pdf to Dr. Mary Beth Brown, AHC Toppan Rare Book Curator, at mary.brown@uwyo.edu by March 31, 2026.

Selection Criteria

Proposals will be awarded based on:

- The extent to which the proposed project draws upon the collections of the AHC.
- The research project's potential contribution to scholarship on 20th-century American popular culture.
- The potential for professional presentation and/or publication upon completion of the research.
- The applicant's ability to complete the research project in a timely fashion.

Additionally, consideration will be given to proposals that incorporate varied perspectives and methodologies.

The selection committee, comprising AHC staff and University of Wyoming faculty, is dedicated to an impartial and comprehensive review process, reflecting our commitment to excellence in research. The recipient will be informed by email.

Notification and Award

The selection committee will review all applications and notify the chosen fellow via email no later than May 15, 2026.

Payment of Stipends

The Fellow will receive the stipend at the end of their stay and receipt of the précis. No advances will be authorized.

Travel, Accommodations, and Local Information

Fellows are responsible for arranging their transportation, lodging, and meals during residency. For travel directions to Laramie, Wyoming, and information about accommodations, dining, and local attractions, please visit the Laramie Tourism website at visitlaramie.org. Information about the University of Wyoming, including campus maps, can be found at uwyo.edu.

About the American Heritage Center

The AHC is a public research institution located on the campus of the University of Wyoming in Laramie. The Center houses collections of local, regional, and national significance. Its holdings emphasize the American West, from the 19th to 21st centuries. The AHC has extensive holdings in military history, popular entertainment (including Hollywood and comics), mining and petroleum, as well as the environment and natural resources. The AHC also serves as the University of Wyoming's manuscripts repository, rare books library, and university archives. With more than 90,000 cubic feet of material and 3,500 collections, the AHC stands among the largest non-governmental repositories in the nation.

Fellowship for the Study of 20th Century American Popular Culture
American Heritage Center, University of Wyoming

For more information about the AHC, please visit our website at uwyo.edu/ahc. We invite you to explore the AHC's extensive collections related to 20th-century American popular culture and contribute to the growing body of research in this fascinating field.