Addendum A

CPH Letters of Intent of Dissolution and ASUW Director Hacke Response

Panhellenic Council

To whom it may concern,

Over the last several years, the strategic partnership between the Associated Students of the University of Wyoming and the Panhellenic/ Interfraternity Councils has had both its benefits and challenges but has struggled to make progress towards a healthy working relationship. There have been dozens of attempts at resolving issues that were pointed out through end of semester evaluations, ongoing communication/miscommunication, unanswered requests, presumptive natures, and false promises. However, very little progress has been made. Blame has been put on both parties over the years and has built up to the point where we feel stagnant in trying to resolve the fundamental issues at hand. More communication and restructuring seem excessive.

IFC President Stinson and my exec member ASUW Liaison McEndree had the opportunity to meet with Director of Partners, Programs, and Events Hacke and voice these concerns to him. Director Hacke understood these concerns and agreed that the relationship had become extremely toxic and does not have the potential to change under the current climate or defining language.

With that being said, we have had to make the difficult decision to move forward with dissolving this strategic partnership. This came with much thought and consideration and ultimately, we feel that this is best for our community to focus on the health of our chapters and work towards the goals that we have set as a council. We feel that moving forward and partnering with you in more organic ways with less structure would be in the best interest for both of our organizations.

Respectfully,

Abby Nelson

To whom it may concern,

On March 25th of 2022, I, ASUW Director of Strategic Partners, Programs, and Events Ashton Hacke, met with Interfraternity Council President Carson Stinson and College Panhellenic ASUW Liaison Payton McEndree.

In this meeting, it was mutually agreed upon that the current Strategic Partner model is a broken system that facilitates an unhealthy relationship and has not met all the needs of the parties involved in its five (5) years of existence.

Operating under this framework, the Interfraternity and College Panhellenic representatives put forth a request for the dissolution of their respective Strategic Partner relationships with ASUW based on the agreed failures of the model, and intend to pursue the dissolution process outlined in ASUW By-Laws 8.02, section five (5), subsection B. This process requires both the Strategic Partner and ASUW to agree upon the act of dissolution.

I provided insight regarding the effects of immediate dissolution with President Carson and Liaison McEndree. Namely, we discussed the ways in which dissolution would result in the IFC and CPH losing prioritization in ASUW's Ad-Hoc Restructuring Committee and that the loss of partnership would include IFC and CPH losing their Ex-Officio rights on the ASUW senate floor. I suggested that all parties would benefit from first establishing a more appropriate Strategic Partner model before the dissolution of the current strategic partnership in an attempt to retain elements of collaboration.

Concluding these discussions, the IFC and CPH representatives acknowledged the consequences of dissolving the strategic partnership and insisted that we move forward with the dissolution process.

I, Director of Partners, Programs, and Events Hacke, verbally agreed on behalf of the 109th ASUW Executive Branch on the joint dissolution of the partnership. With this being an equal partnership between autonomous organizations, I do not think it would be right to force a student organization to stay in a partnership that it does not want to be a part of and I respect the decisions made by the IFC and CPH representatives.

As such, ASUW will engage in the dissolution process through passage of legislation in which the Interfraternity Council and the College Panhellenic Council current partnership status with ASUW will be dissolved.

Signed,

Ashton Hacke
