

Water-Wise Plants: A Talk & Tour

Want to learn about beautiful water-wise plants you can use in your landscape?

When: June 28, 2008

Time: 9:00 a.m. - noon

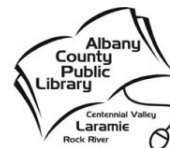

Where: Albany Co Public Library

310 South 8th, Laramie, WY

(bring transportation as we'll be visiting LaBonte Park)

We'll start the day with a slide presentation where local gardeners will discuss a variety of beautiful plants that need relatively low amounts of water to flourish. We'll tour the library landscaping to see some of these plants up close and then head to LaBonte Park where we will see the fabulous new Laramie Water-Wise Demonstration Garden!

Brought to you by:

In collaboration with the:
"Catch the Reading Bug"
summer reading program

UNIVERSITY OF WYOMING
Cooperative Extension Service