

Trimerotropis cincta

Trimerotropis cincta is an uncommon grasshopper found in dry meadows with scattered pines. Adults from this survey were collected from late July to early September. It is not considered an economic species in Wyoming.

Ref: Otte 1984, and Capinera and Sechrist 1982.