Dear UW Graduates, Family, and Friends:

Welcome to the University of Wyoming's 2022 Spring Commencement ceremonies. Thank you for joining us in this celebration for one of the most important and memorable moments in the academic journey.

As I have been telling our recent graduates—and will tell each of you—when you embarked on your academic career towards this momentous occasion none of you could have envisioned the pandemic-related challenges you would experience on your journey. Yet, you have persevered. I applaud the determination and grit you have shown during such challenging times. You did not let the many trials you have faced deter you from your ultimate goal. You continued to attend classes (something I didn't always do even without a pandemic!), often through new and virtual environments. You continued to work hard, to apply yourselves, to inspire others, and to lift one another towards success. Indeed, you created a new normalcy that included masks, distancing, testing, vaccinations, quarantining, and so many other day-to-day changes that you are the epitome of resilience and adaptability. These skills, as important as anything you learned in your classes, will serve you well!

Now, you are completing your work and beginning to turn the page to a new chapter. You will walk that path with your degree conferred upon you. Your degree, your education, your knowledge, and experiences are uniquely yours as you step into the future. Your University of Wyoming degree is a culmination, and the catalyst from which you will build your and our futures.

You are my fourth graduating class as President of the University of Wyoming, and I am so glad to be joining you in person for a traditional commencement ceremony. It is my deepest honor to celebrate this day with you. I share your elation, your excitement and—yes, for some of you—your anxiety about tomorrow! I am so glad we can be here together to honor you—and share this time with family, friends, faculty, and staff.

Today, you permanently join the ranks of a Cowboy or Cowgirl for life. You are part of a community that includes all who have studied, taught, researched, and worked at UW. This community is global, embracing, and is ready to partner with you in the days and years ahead. You make this community stronger and better by joining the alumni ranks of the Brown and Gold. You have my heartfelt congratulations, and my best wishes for a great future!

Ed Seidel
President

WYOMING TERRITORIAL SEAL

The University of Wyoming provides a transitional chapter in the history of the central Rocky Mountain frontier. In 1886, when the university was founded, the Wyoming Territory was nearly two decades old. The territorial seal is reproduced in beautiful stained glass above the west door of Old Main, the first campus building.

In the upper half of the seal, a railroad train is set against the mountains. In the lower left, a plow, a pick, a shovel, and a shepherd's crook are depicted. An arm upholds a sword in the lower right. Above the Norman shield appears the inscription Cedant Arma Togae (let arms yield to the gown).

In 1890, when Wyoming became a state, the official state seal was adopted. Historically, the university seal bridges the territory and the state. It symbolizes educational excellence and complements the growth of the state it serves.

ALMA MATER

Where the western lights' long shadows
Over boundless prairies fling
And the mountain winds are vocal
With thy dear name, Wyoming.
There it is the Brown and Yellow
Floats in loving loyalty,
And the College throws its portals
Open wide to all men free.

REFRAIN

And so our songs we bring.
Our Alma Mater sing,
To her our hearts shall cling,
Shall cling forever more.

Yonder we can see it standing,
Circled by the purple hills,
While the flaming fire of sunset
Every western window fills;
'Tis the College! Ah, we know it!
Shrine of many joys and tears,
And the rays that light upon it
Are prophetic of its years.

By June Etta Downey

UW Professor of English and Philosophy (1905)

First woman in the United States to head an academic department (1915)

RAGTIME COWBOY JOE

He always sings raggy music to the cattle as he swings
Back and forward in the saddle on a horse
(a pretty good horse!)
He's got a syncopated gaiter
And you ought to hear the meter
to the roar of his repeater
How they run (yes run!)
When they hear that he's 'a-comin',
Cause the western folks all know,
He's a high-falootin', rootin', tootin'
Son of a gun from ol' Wyoming
Ragtime Cowboy, (talk about your cowboy),
Ragtime Cowboy Joe.

FIGHT, WYOMING, FIGHT

Come on, Cowboys, gold and brown!
Show them how, boys, hold them down!
Start right now, boys, don't delay,
Break away, win today.
Take that ball, and one, two, three!
Carry on triumphantly—Come on and fight!
Fight! Fight, you Cowboys, fight!
Come on and fight to victory!

ACADEMIC REGALIA

Academic regalia originated in the oldest European universities. Many of these institutions continue to show great diversity in their academic dress. In contrast, American colleges and universities adopted a uniform dress code with the following descriptions:

Processional—Doctoral and master's degree candidates precede bachelor's candidates. Marching order of the faculty is according to academic rank and tenure.

Mace—Borne in UW processions by the marshal, the mace is symbolic of the president's leadership and authority. The short, club-like staff of gleaming metal originated in medieval England. High-ranking officials were accompanied by bodyguards who held the formidable weapon ready to protect the dignitary. The UW mace is crowned with a cap of flames, signifying knowledge and enlightenment.

Gowns—The gown for the bachelor's degree is worn closed; it has pointed sleeves. The gown for the master's degree may be worn open or closed; it has oblong sleeves with an arc cut away in front. Neither is trimmed. The gown for the doctoral degree is faced down the front with velvet, with three bars of the same fabric circling the sleeves. This gown may be trimmed in black or a color to indicate the academic subject, such as dark blue for philosophy and light blue for education.

Hoods—It is customary in most institutions to dispense with the hood for bachelor's degrees. UW hoods the master's and doctoral candidates as part of the ceremony. Candidates for the professional diploma wear their master's hood. The hood is always black. The master's hood is three and one-half feet long. The doctoral hood is four feet long with side panels. Hoods are lined with the official color(s) of the college or university conferring the degree. The edge of the hood is velvet, and the color of the fabric indicates the degree subject.

Caps—Commonly known as mortarboards, caps are black and the tassels may be black or a color that corresponds with the subject area. The doctoral tassel is gold. Generally the tassel is worn on the right front side of the mortarboard before the degree is conferred and transferred to the left afterward.

Colors—For all academic purposes, including tassels of caps, trimmings of doctoral gowns, and edging of hoods, colors are associated with subject areas. The following colors designate UW's colleges and schools:

- Agriculture and Natural Resources—yellow or maize
- Arts and Sciences—white
- Business—sapphire blue
- Education—light blue
- Engineering and Applied Science—orange
- Honors College—gold stoles
- Health Sciences—green
- Law—purple
- Ph.D.—dark blue
- Ed.D.—light blue
- Energy Resources—golden yellow
- Environment and Natural Resources—bright green

Professional diploma and master's degree, according to subject field.

HONORS COLLEGE

Peter Parolin, Ph.D., Dean
Leigh Selting, M.F.A., Associate Dean

Graduates from the Honors College complete a rigorous interdisciplinary course of study, produce a significant independent research or creative capstone project, and receive a minor in Honors on their transcript. Extensive opportunities for experiential learning, financially supported internships, and study-abroad round out the Honors College experience. Throughout this program, the symbol “+” before a student’s name indicates Honors College and signifies graduates who have accomplished all the requirements for the Honors minor.

HONORS COLLEGE

Peter Parolin, Ph.D., Dean
Leigh Selting, M.F.A., Associate Dean

Graduates from the Honors College complete a rigorous interdisciplinary course of study, produce a significant independent research or creative capstone project, and receive a minor in Honors on their transcript. Extensive opportunities for experiential learning, financially supported internships, and study-abroad round out the Honors College experience. Throughout this program, the symbol “+” before a student’s name indicates Honors College and signifies graduates who have accomplished all the requirements for the Honors minor.

SPEAKERS AND HONORARY MARSHALS

Joe Kelsey, Keynote Speaker

8:30 a.m. Ceremony

Joe Kelsey is one of Wyoming's premier mountaineers, internationally known as an author, former mountain guide (with Exum Mountain Guides, Jackson Hole, Wyoming), and technical writer. Through his writings—especially his guidebook Climbing and Hiking in the Wind River Mountains—he has made outstanding contributions to the people of Wyoming and to Wyoming's deeply cherished sense of place. Setting the highest standards in its genre, Kelsey's guidebook has served as a beacon for outdoor recreationists and a magnet for those seeking to explore Wyoming and the Rocky Mountain West. His other publications have brought Wyoming to the world, drawing upon and deepening the state's profound love of landscape. Informative, insightful, and superbly literate, his writing, in the guidebook and elsewhere, has drawn generations of people around the world to Wyoming's highest, most distinctive mountain range.

Mark Person, Honorary Marshal

8:30 a.m. Ceremony

Mark Person is a native of Wyoming, born and raised in Cheyenne. He studied at the University of Wyoming, receiving his B.A. in German in 1983 and his M.A. in German in 1986 with a concentration on 19th-century German literature. After a Fulbright year in Germany and further graduate studies at Rutgers University, he returned to Wyoming in 1993. He taught German language and literature full- or part-time for several years, and joined the faculty of the Department of Modern and Classical Languages full-time in 2000, eventually attaining the rank of senior extended term lecturer. He has taught classes from first-year German to graduate-level literature, and has developed classes on German Romanticism, German for Engineers, and a first-year seminar on the German presence in the U.S. Person has always found teaching to be tremendously rewarding, and his numerous teaching awards include three "Top Prof" awards from the UW Mortarboard Society, two "Promoting Intellectual Engagement in the First Year" (PIE) awards, an award for "Extraordinary Merit in Teaching" from the UW College of Arts and Sciences, and an "Extra Mile" award from UW Disability Support Services.

Person's publishing efforts have been primarily in the area of translation. His publications include his English translations of the books Views of Nature by Alexander von Humboldt, TransArea: a Literary History of Globalization by Ottmar Ette, and The Literatures of the World: Beyond World Literature by Ottmar Ette, as well as numerous articles and book chapters.

Daniel Rule, Honorary Marshal

8:30 a.m. Ceremony

Daniel Rule arrived at UW in 1987. He began his academic career at the University of California at Davis earning a B.S. degree in animal science. His graduate studies began at Washington State University where he earned an M.S. degree in ruminant nutrition, and from there to Iowa State University where he earned a doctorate in nutritional physiology of domestic animal species. He followed with a first post-doctoral research position with the USDA Meat Animal Research Center in Clay Center, Nebraska, and a second with the University of Colorado Medical School. Research was focused on physiology and nutrition of lipids in ruminant animals. In 1987 Rule began his UW career as an assistant professor of animal science and advanced through the faculty ranks to professor in 1999. At UW his research focused on factors affecting fat synthesis in sheep and cattle, as well as nutritional factors affecting fatty acid composition of the meat. During his career Rule published over 200 journal articles, abstracts and proceedings, and books chapters. In addition to research accomplishments, Rule taught courses at the graduate and undergraduate level, served as chair of the UW Animal Care and Use Committee for nearly 14 years, and adviser for the UW Animal Science Academic Quadrathlon and chair of the American Society of Animal Science Academic Quadrathlon for over 20 years. During his career, Rule received numerous teaching awards.

Rule and his wife of 44 years, JoAnn, now reside near Nashville, Tennessee to be close to their daughter, Jennifer, a successful nurse practitioner and diabetes educator, her husband Matt, and three grandchildren Sydney, Joseph, and Logan.

Jack Tennant, Alumni Speaker

8:30 a.m./12:15 p.m./3:30 p.m. Ceremonies

Jack Tennant, an alumnus of the University of Wyoming is the executive director of the UW Alumni Association (UWAA). Tennant came to UW as a student-athlete (football and wrestling) in 2006. Since he graduated in 2010, his professional career has grown within the university as he has worked for the Department of Athletics and the UW Foundation. He and his wife Jenna, also a UW alumna, have two sons (Todd and Vince) and have been in Laramie for 15 years. Jack and his UWAA team are committed to driving the association's mission to "Build pride, loyalty, and future sustainment among the UW community through communication, involvement, engagement, and celebration."

CeeJay Berg, Student Speaker

8:30 a.m. Ceremony

CeeJay Berg has spent the last four years studying for bachelor's degrees in accounting and economics with minors in honors and finance and developing a strange fascination with house plants. She has been involved in the Political Science Club, was president of the Economics Club, and served as an executive in the ASUW Student Government—needless to say she has had more than her fair share of free pizza in the last four years. She has been an honors mentor, SOAR mentor, and SOAR assistant with the Honors College, which she calls her home away from home. She worked with first-year students and her peers as a proud cowboy coach. She also worked in the College of Business Student Success Center as a career peer. In a few days, she will be packing her things and moving to Casper, Wyoming where she will begin her full-time job as an accountant and her side job as a part-time DIY-er/wedding planner/community theater actress/cat mom.

Her mom has this to say about her, "CeeJay has been devoted to helping with local soup kitchens and Cowboys Against Cancer for years, and recently has been a part of Volunteer Income Tax Assistance. She helps her fellow man in anything, even if she will be up until 2 a.m. doing her schoolwork. She genuinely loves people and animals. You rarely find someone who has a true love for God, country, and family, like CeeJay."

Dennis Coon, Honorary Marshal

12:15 p.m. Ceremony

Dennis Coon joined the UW mechanical engineering faculty 34 years ago in 1988. His scholarly interests are the selection and performance of high-temperature materials in advanced engineering applications. He worked for the Idaho National Laboratory developing materials for high-temperature engines before joining UW. At UW, Coon has worked on applications of ceramics, metals, polymers, and composites. His most recent work is in applying uncertainty models to the performance of materials in extreme environments. He has taught courses in materials science, manufacturing methods, engineering management, data analysis, and applied engineering mechanics. Coon rose through the academic ranks to professor in 1999. He has served in academic administration roles as an accreditation coordinator in mechanical engineering from 2000 to 2015, coordinator of the mechanical engineering undergraduate degree program from 2009 to 2015, interim department head of chemical engineering from 2015 to 2016, and interim department head of petroleum engineering from 2020 to 2022. Since 2016, he has served as the CEAS H.T. Person Professor to promote excellence in engineering education. His goal has always been to help students achieve their full potential as they launch exciting engineering careers. He credits his success at UW to a wonderful group of highly talented colleagues and will miss the energy and enthusiasm of the engineering students.

SPEAKERS AND HONORARY MARSHALS

Peter D. Stahl, Honorary Marshal

12:15 p.m. Ceremony

Peter D. Stahl (B.S. Oklahoma State University, 1978; M.S. and Ph.D., University of Wyoming, 1989) is an ecologist and soil scientist appointed to the Department of Ecosystem Science and Management at the University of Wyoming in 2000 after completing a postdoctoral fellowship at the U.S. National Science Foundation Center for Microbial Ecology at Michigan State University and working for several years as a soil microbial ecologist at the USDA/ARS National Soil Tilth Laboratory in Ames, Iowa. Stahl has been teaching classes, conducting research and contributing to the fields of soil ecology and ecosystem restoration since 1980. He, his students, and colleagues have published in excess of 100 peer-reviewed scientific papers on soil and ecosystem recovery on disturbed lands as well as improved methods for facilitating restoration of lands impacted by resource extraction. They have generated over $7 million in research funding. Stahl has been the director of the Wyoming Reclamation and Restoration Center since 2009, was president of the American Society for Mining and Reclamation in 2017 and is a former president of the Western Soil Science Society of America. Stahl has presented the results of his work at universities throughout the United States as well as before the U.S. Congress and National Academy of Sciences in Washington, D.C. and has been awarded the University of Wyoming Faculty Internationalization Award for his work with scientists around the world.

Alison Grendahl, Student Speaker

12:15 p.m. Ceremony

Alison Grendahl has called Wyoming home her entire life. She was born and raised in Newcastle and has lived in Laramie for the last 12 years. A first-generation college graduate, Grendahl earned a B.A. in psychology from UW in 2014 and is proudly here today accepting her M.A. in higher education administration and online instruction certificate. Grendahl has dedicated her professional career to serving underrepresented student populations within UW's TRIO programs. Coaching and supporting students to help them access and succeed in higher education has led to Grendahl's passion for equity in education and holistic student advising. Grendahl has served as Wyoming ASPIRE president and continues her professional membership, where she advocates for students on a national level and helps develop diverse professional opportunities for educators. Grendahl's time at UW has shown her that no matter the path to education, every experience contributes to an individual's learning and growth.

Cynthia Lummis, Keynote Speaker

3:30 p.m. Ceremony

Cynthia Lummis is the junior senator from Wyoming, and the first female senator ever elected to represent the Equality State. Born and raised on a ranch outside of Cheyenne, Lummis has dedicated her career to defending Wyoming's agriculture, mineral, and energy resources. She first served the state in the state House and Senate, as the state treasurer, and as the at-large member of the U.S. House of Representatives from 2008 to 2016, where she was an original member of the House Freedom Caucus. Now in the "upper chamber" of Congress, Lummis serves on the Senate Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs Committee; the Commerce, Science, and Transportation Committee; and the Environment and Public Works Committee, where she is focused on everything from lands, energy, and natural resources issues, to finance and technology issues like cryptocurrency. Lummis and her late husband have one daughter and two grandsons.

Mark T. Bittner, Honorary Marshal

3:30 p.m. Ceremony

Mark Bittner attended UW and graduated with an elementary education degree with an emphasis in early childhood special education in 1989 and then earned an M.A. in child development in 1992, also from UW. After working for several years in a for-profit child care center, he took over as director of the UW Child Care Center while attending graduate school in 1991. In 1994 he also took on director duties of the Hitchcock House, which was the additional lab site for the Department of Family and Consumer Sciences. After many years of lobbying for a new early childhood facility at UW, in 2005 a new program was built on campus which became the current Early Care and Education Center where Bittner remained director for 17 years.

Over the years, Bittner has taught various courses for the FCSC department, supervised UW interns, and has also had research interests in the recruitment and retention of male early childhood teachers as well social development in early childhood. Bittner has served on many boards both locally and nationally. He is past president of the Wyoming Early Childhood Association and was the chair of advocacy for the National Coalition for Campus Children's Centers. Most recently, he served for six years as vice chair on the Albany County School District Board of Trustees. Bittner will be retiring at the end of June after working for the University of Wyoming for 31 years, and hopes to continue advocating for young children in other capacities.

Tamsen Emerson Hert,

Honorary Marshal

3:30 p.m. Ceremony

Tamsen Emerson Hert has been with the University of Wyoming Libraries since 1986. She holds a B.A. in history and master's degrees in history and library science. Her tenure at UW includes several positions within the UW Libraries: assistant documents librarian (1986–88), reference/collection development librarian (1988–98), Wyoming bibliographer/collection development librarian (1998–2009), interim head, Brinkerhoff Earth Resources Information Center (2007–08), and special collections librarian, Emmett D. Chisum Special Collections (2009 to present). Since 1988 she has served as library liaison to the UW history department with the same responsibility to other departments through the years. She is co-author of University of Wyoming: Campus History Series (2012). Her research interests have led to published work on the cultural history of Yellowstone and Grand Teton National Parks. Her 2005 article, "Luxury in the Wilderness: Yellowstone's Grand Canyon Hotel, 1911–1960," received the 2006 Wyoming State Historical Society Award for best article. She has contributed to edited volumes including the forthcoming books, Yellowstone's Cultural Landscape: The Evolution of America's First National Park and Yellowstone Collectibles: An Illustrated Introduction to the Park's Historic Souvenirs, Books, Art, and Memorabilia. Hert is a recipient of the John Topham and Susan Redd Butler Off-Campus Faculty Research Award and Charles Redd Fellowship in Western American History from the Charles Redd Center at Brigham Young University, which supported her Yellowstone research. She has presented on various Yellowstone topics at regional events as well as the Western History Association. She is past president of the Wyoming State Historical Society and currently serves as associate editor for the Yellowstone History Journal. Her knowledge of Yellowstone's history and research resources contributed to her work as co-founder of the Conversations on Collecting Yellowstone conferences in 2019 and 2022. In 2012 Hert was the recipient of the UW Libraries Agnes Milstead Distinguished Librarian award and the following year received the Annual Services Award from the Wyoming State Historical Society.

SPEAKERS AND HONORARY MARSHALS

Jim King, Honorary Marshal

3:30 p.m. Ceremony

Jim King is a professor of political science in the School of Politics, Public Affairs, and International Studies. He joined the UW faculty in 1992 to teach "American and Wyoming Government" and other classes related to American politics. In 2020, King was a Fulbright Professional Scholar in American-Australian Alliance Studies at Flinders University. He is a recipient of UW's George Duke Humphrey Distinguished Faculty Award, the College of Arts and Science's Exemplary Faculty Award, a Promoting Intellectual Engagement in the First Year (PIE) Award for freshman classes, and a "Top Prof" Award of the University of Wyoming Mortar Board Society. During election years he is often interviewed about Wyoming politics by state, national, and international media. King's research touches upon many aspects of American government and politics with a particular emphasis on aspects of the American presidency.

Maira Sagahon, Student Speaker

3:30 p.m. Ceremony

Maira Abigail Sagahon is originally from Southern California from a small town called Perris. Perris is known for its surrounding agricultural land, dairy farms, and orchards. Her hope is to stay and teach agriculture in Wyoming in the coming years. Sagahon's involvement in her high school's FFA program led her to travel for an internship in Colorado which was the beginning of her career in agriculture. Once she received her associate's degree from Northeastern Junior College, she was able to transfer to the University of Wyoming. Throughout her time in college, she has explored different opportunities, many of which have taken her outside of her comfort zone. Sagahon has expanded her horizons through internships, retreats, and conferences and is now getting ready to accept her bachelor's degree in agriculture education.
