Electrical Engineering and Computer Science Transfer Policy

(1) To graduate with a bachelor's degree in Electrical, Electrical with a Bio-Option, or Computer Engineering from UW, students must successfully complete at least 30 hours of EE or BE courses from the University of Wyoming.

(2) Courses will be considered for pre-approved transfer as a UW EE course only if they are taken from an institution on the list below. No online courses taken outside the Wyoming system will be considered for pre-approved transfer.

(3) Before taking a course that has not been pre-approved, a student should verify that the course has the potential to transfer by getting the EECS "Potential to Transfer" form signed. Even a very good course may not have the potential for transferring if it is outside of the collective EECS faculty's expertise. After taking a course which has "Potential to Transfer," a student may apply to substitute it for a UW EE course. The UW EECS department will then test that student and examine the course content to determine if they have learned the specified material. If they pass the examination, credit will be transferred for that course on a one-time basis.

(4) Students enrolled in the International Engineering Option, Minor, or Study Abroad will have their international courses considered for pre-approved transfer. They may also petition to have the hours required in item (1) lowered.

Transfer Credit Policy for COSC for students already enrolled in the COSC program.

1. Courses will be considered for pre-approved transfer as a UW COSC course at the junior level or above if they meet the requirements.

2. Any course taken at the junior level and above, WITHOUT pre-approval, will be automatically denied.

3. Before taking a course that has not been preapproved, a student should verify that the course has the potential to transfer by getting EECS's "Potential to Transfer" form signed.   After taking a course that has "Potential to Transfer," a student may apply to substitute it for a UW COSC course. The UW EECS department will then test that student and examine the course content to determine if they have learned the specified material. If they pass the examination, credit will be transferred for that course on a one-time basis.

4. Some courses cannot be transferred: COSC 3050 Ethics, COSC 4950 & 4955 Senior Design I and II.

Transfer Credit Policy for COSC students coming from outside of UW.

1. Since pre-approval is not possible, individual courses will be evaluated with the syllabus, and the student may be asked for course material as well. Junior-level and above courses may be approved, but the department may ask the student to pass an exam before it is transferred. Courses will be held at the same prerequisites as UW COSC courses have. If a student does not have a prerequisite for a transfer course, it will not be transferred. Some courses cannot be transferred, including COSC 3050 Ethics, COSC 4950 & 4955 Senior Design I and II.

2. Freshman and sophomore level courses can be evaluated and transferred without exams. Courses will be held at the same prerequisites as UW COSC courses. If the corresponding prerequisites are not listed on their transcripts, then the course will likely be denied.

3. Any courses that don't match UW COSC courses will be listed as Elec 1000 or 3000. The student can petition for a substitution in the COSC electives slots.
